Adtalem Global Education Promotes Josh Braunstein to President and Managing Director of Becker Professional Education

2021-07-12

Braunstein will continue to lead OnCourse Learning as President

CHICAGO--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Adtalem Global Education Inc. (NYSE: ATGE), a leading workforce solutions provider, has named Josh Braunstein as president and managing director of Becker Professional Education, a leading global continuing professional education and certified public accounting licensure company, in addition to his current role as president of OnCourse Learning.

Braunstein was previously named as the interim president and managing director of Becker Professional Education in February 2021. Braunstein will also remain as the president of OnCourse Learning, a leading provider of regulatory and compliance education solutions for the mortgage and financial sectors and has served in that role since February 2020.

“We are very pleased to promote Josh to lead Becker, in addition to his role as president of OnCourse Learning,” said Stephen W. Beard, chief operating officer of Adtalem Global Education. “Since being named as Becker’s interim president in February, Josh’s strategic vision, leadership and focus on execution made him the obvious choice to lead Becker as the company pursues its next phase of growth. I am highly confident in Josh’s continued leadership — his ability to scale and leverage the two organizations’ core competencies and strengths — will help drive continued growth for the organization.”

Prior to joining OnCourse Learning and Becker Professional Education, Braunstein spent much of his career with Wolters Kluwer, where he held several leadership roles. As executive vice president and general manager of Wolters Kluwer’s CCH Research and Learning division, he transformed the business from a traditional print/online publisher to a SaaS (Software-as-a-Service) provider and focused on workflow integration — successfully growing its CPE business from negative to double-digit growth.
