Nearly $125,000 awarded to 13 off-road vehicle and snowmobile organizations this fall

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 10, 2026 /PRNewswire/ -- Today, Polaris Inc. (NYSE: PII) announced it is donating nearly $125,000 to 13 off-road and snowmobile clubs and organizations across the United States and Canada through its TRAILS GRANTS program. Together with grants awarded to 14 organizations this spring, Polaris has given more than $250,000 through the program in 2026.

"Strong riding communities depend on the people who put in the work to keep trails safe, accessible and ready to ride," said Mike Speetzen, CEO of Polaris. "For two decades, Polaris has been proud to stand alongside these volunteers and organizations, caring for the places riders love today while helping preserve access for generations to come."

For two decades, the grants have supported locally led projects focused on trail development and maintenance, rider safety and education, and protecting access to outdoor recreation. Since the program's inception, Polaris has invested more than $4 million in TRAILS GRANTS funding to nearly 470 organizations across the United States and Canada.

"We are incredibly grateful to Polaris for awarding Stony Lonesome OHV one of this year's TRAILS GRANTS. This generous contribution provides Cullman County with direct resources to invest in our infrastructure. By restoring these paths, we are making our entire trail system both safer and significantly more enjoyable for the outdoor community," said Kenneth Cornelius, Director, Cullman County Parks.

"This Polaris grant helps us improve the road that serves as Camp ACA's main access and a primary gateway to Yankee Hill, one of the busiest off-highway vehicle areas on Colorado's Front Range," shared Chantelle Shoaee, Executive Director, Always Choose Adventures, Inc. "These improvements support critical 911 access and help us bring people with disabilities and disadvantaged communities into the outdoors. We're grateful to Polaris for helping keep that access open."
