Teladoc Is Providing Free Health Visits to Those Impacted by Hurricane Irma

9/8/2017

PURCHASE, NY, Sept. 08, 2017 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Teladoc, Inc. (NYSE:TDOC) is providing free, 24/7 telehealth visits to those impacted by Hurricane Irma. Those displaced by or who otherwise cannot access care as a result of the storm can call 855-221-0370 to access treatment by the Teladoc network of board-certified, state licensed physicians for many non-emergency illnesses.

"In the wake of the devastation of Harvey, we are activating quickly to let those in South Florida and other areas expected to be impacted by Irma know that they can access care if and when needed," explained Lewis Levy, MD, chief medical officer, Teladoc. "An infant's fever, child's stomach ache, or adult's respiratory infection is not going to wait for the storm to pass, and we're glad we can be there to provide some relief and reliability as these families are facing unfathomable circumstances."

Teladoc is offering the free general medical care visits to all victims of the hurricane – both Teladoc members and non-members alike. Among those adult and pediatric conditions that can be effectively diagnosed and treated are common conditions including sinus problems, respiratory infections, allergies, cold and flu symptoms and many other non-emergency illnesses. For emergencies, patients should call 911.
