5/4/2023

TOLEDO, Ohio--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Owens Corning (NYSE: OC) today announced that it has been recognized by DiversityInc as one of its Top 50 companies as leaders in workplace fairness and inclusion practices and policy.

It's the first time Owens Corning has earned a spot on this list, placing at number 44. It had been a DiversityInc Noteworthy Company for the past three years.

"I'm proud of our work to be a more inclusive and diverse company. By creating an environment where everyone feels valued, respected, and appreciated, we unlock the full potential of our company by attracting, developing, and retaining the very best talent in the world," said Brian Chambers, Owens Corning Chair and CEO.

According to DiversityInc, data submitted by companies for the annual Top 50 competition provides a trusted measure of employer and investor data transparency, equitable human capital outcomes for U.S. employers and the effectiveness of DEI strategy, policies and practices.

"It's energizing to be recognized for the progress the people of Owens Corning have worked hard to achieve," said Leah Maguire, OC's vice president of Inclusion and Diversity. "Milestones are important to celebrate, especially since we've come a long way to get here. Even more importantly, we understand the work yet to be done and will embrace it with that same energy."

Participation in the Top 50 survey measures overall performance in six key areas of diversity and inclusion management:

- Leadership Accountability

- Talent Programs
- Workforce Practices
- Supplier Diversity
- Philanthropy
- Human Capital Diversity Metrics

In 2022, Owens Corning progressed and is on track for its 2030 goal to have people of color fill 22% of global mid-level leader, director, and vice president roles, and to have women fill 35% of roles at that same level.
