This is a particularly impressive achievement since commencing gathering operations in 2012 and is a testament to our organic growth strategy, as well as the consistent development and strength of our sponsor, Antero Resources.”

Mr. Rady further added, “In addition to our operational success, we recently announced a transaction that simplifies the corporate structure of the midstream business in an immediately accretive transaction to both Antero Midstream and AMGP that we believe is a win-win-win across the Antero family. While the corporate structure is expected to change, our organic growth strategy and integration with Antero Resources remain unchanged. We believe this is the best way to continue delivering value to our equity holders and we remain focused on executing our five year development and infrastructure plans.”

Recent Developments

Antero Midstream Simplification Transaction

On October 9, 2018, Antero Midstream and AMGP announced that they entered into a definitive agreement for AMGP to acquire all outstanding Antero Midstream common units in a stock and cash transaction. The transaction results in the elimination of the outstanding incentive distribution rights (“IDRs”) and simplifies the structure of the midstream business into one publicly-traded corporation (“New AM”). New AM will be a corporation for both tax and governance purposes with a majority of independent directors upon closing. Importantly, the transaction is estimated to reduce AMGP’s tax payments from 2019 through 2022 by approximately $375 million, with New AM not expected to pay material federal and state income taxes through at least 2024. These tax savings, combined with the elimination of the IDRs, is expected to result in double digit accretion for both AMGP and AM on a Distributable Cash Flow per share and per unit basis, respectively. In addition, AM public unitholders will receive a 3% increase on their existing per unit distribution targets and growth rates through 2022, assuming unitholders elect to receive all equity consideration. For further details and transaction merits, please visit the investor relations section of Antero Midstream's and AMGP's websites, which includes a press release and accompanying presentation relating to the transaction. Additionally, as part of the midstream simplification transaction, Antero Midstream exercised the accordion feature on its revolving credit facility, increasing total borrowing capacity from $1.5 billion to $2.0 billion.

- 1) Cash reserved for bond interest expense on Antero Midstream's 5.375% senior notes outstanding during the period that is paid on a semi-annual basis on March 15th and September 15th of each year.
- 2) Estimate of current period portion of expected cash payment for income tax withholding attributable to vesting of Midstream LTIP equity-based compensation awards to be paid in the fourth quarter.
- 3) Maintenance capital expenditures represent the portion of our estimated capital expenditures associated with (i) the connection of new wells to our gathering and processing systems that we believe will be necessary to offset the natural production declines Antero Resources will experience on all of its wells over time, and (ii) water delivery to new wells necessary to maintain the average throughput volume on our systems.

Gathering and Processing —During the third quarter, Antero Midstream connected 73 wells to its gathering system during the quarter. The Partnership's compression capacity was approximately 80% utilized throughout the quarter. Antero Resources is currently operating five drilling rigs on Antero Midstream dedicated acreage.

In addition, the Joint Venture with MPLX continued construction on Sherwood 10 and 11 processing plants, which are expected to be placed online during the fourth quarter of 2018. During the third quarter, the Joint Venture's 600MMcf/d of processing capacity was fully utilized. The Joint Venture also continued construction on the Hopedale 4 fractionation plant, which is expected to be placed online by the end of the fourth quarter of 2018. By year-end 2018, the Joint Venture expects to have 1.0 Bcf/d of gross processing capacity and 40 MBbl/d of gross fractionation capacity.

Water Handling and Treatment — Antero Midstream's Marcellus and Utica fresh water delivery systems serviced 38 well completions during the third quarter of 2018, a 19% increase from the prior year quarter. Antero Resources continued to improve completion efficiencies increasing from 5.0 stages per day in the prior quarter to 5.5 stages per day in the third quarter. During the month of September, Antero Resources averaged 6.0 stages per day. These efficiencies accelerated completions scheduled for the fourth quarter of 2018 into the third quarter and is expected to result in a sequential decrease in fresh water delivery volumes in the fourth quarter. Antero Resources operated four completion crews on Antero Midstream dedicated acreage in the third quarter of 2018 and has reduced its completion crews to three in the fourth quarter of 2018, driven by efficiency gains the first three quarters of 2018.

Balance Sheet and Liquidity

For a reconciliation of consolidated Net Debt to consolidated total debt, the most comparable GAAP measure, please read "Non-GAAP Financial Measures."

Importantly, AM continues to maintain a strong balance sheet, with Net Debt to trailing twelve months Adjusted EBITDA of 2.3x."

Non-GAAP Financial Measures and Definitions

Antero Midstream uses Adjusted EBITDA as an important indicator of the Partnership's performance. Antero Midstream defines Adjusted EBITDA as net income before interest expense, impairment expense, gain on sale of assets, depreciation expense, accretion, equity-based compensation expense, excluding equity in earnings of unconsolidated affiliates and including cash distributions from unconsolidated affiliates.

Antero Midstream uses Adjusted EBITDA to assess:

- the financial performance of the Partnership's assets, without regard to financing methods, capital structure or historical cost basis;
- its operating performance and return on capital as compared to other publicly traded partnerships in the midstream energy sector, without regard to financing or capital structure; and
- the viability of acquisitions and other capital expenditure projects.

The Partnership defines Distributable Cash Flow as Adjusted EBITDA less interest paid, income tax withholding payments and cash reserved for payments of income tax withholding upon vesting of equity-based compensation awards, cash reserved for bond interest and ongoing maintenance capital expenditures paid. Antero Midstream uses Distributable Cash Flow as a performance metric to compare the cash generating performance of the Partnership from period to period and to compare the cash generating performance for specific periods to the cash distributions (if any) that are expected to be paid to unitholders. Distributable Cash Flow does not reflect changes in working capital balances.

Adjusted EBITDA and Distributable Cash Flow are non-GAAP financial measures. The GAAP measure most directly comparable to Adjusted EBITDA and Distributable Cash Flow is Net Income. The non-GAAP financial measures of Adjusted EBITDA and Distributable Cash Flow should not be considered as alternatives to the GAAP measure of Net Income. Adjusted EBITDA and Distributable Cash Flow are not presentations made in accordance with GAAP and have important limitations as an analytical tool because they include some, but not all, items that affect Net Income and Adjusted EBITDA. You should not consider Adjusted EBITDA and Distributable Cash Flow in isolation or as a substitute for analyses of results as reported under GAAP. Antero Midstream’s definition of Adjusted EBITDA and Distributable Cash Flow may not be comparable to similarly titled measures of other partnerships.

“Segment Adjusted EBITDA” is also used by our management team for various purposes, including as a measure of operating performance and as a basis for strategic planning and forecasting. Segment Adjusted EBITDA is a non-GAAP financial measure that we define as operating income before equity-based compensation expense, interest expense, depreciation expense, gain on sale of assets, impairment expense, accretion, excluding equity in earnings of unconsolidated affiliates, and including cash distributions from unconsolidated affiliates. Operating income is the most directly comparable GAAP financial measure to Segment Adjusted EBITDA because we do not account for interest expense on a segment basis.

The Partnership defines consolidated net debt as consolidated total debt less cash and cash equivalents. Antero Midstream views consolidated net debt as an important indicator in evaluating the Partnership’s financial leverage.
