

TD SYNEX Brings Google Cloud Capabilities to the U.S. Public Sector

11/14/2022

Expansion of TD SYNEX's partnership with Google Cloud will accelerate digital transformations in the public sector

FREMONT, Calif., & CLEARWATER, Fla.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- TD SYNEX (NYSE: SNX) announced today it will begin bringing Google Cloud solutions, capabilities, and infrastructure to the U.S. public sector, expanding its relationship with Google Cloud to accelerate public sector digital transformations. TD SYNEX and its community of partners will begin bringing Google Cloud capabilities to the U.S. public sector, including Google Workspace, BigQuery, zero trust offerings in cybersecurity, public sector industry solutions, Vertex AI, and more.

"Our support for public sector digital transformations with Google Cloud marks an important moment for TD SYNEX and the solutions we can offer public sector organizations," said Reyna Thompson, senior vice president of public sector vendor management, TD SYNEX Public Sector. "TD SYNEX's footprint and growth within the U.S. public sector has greatly expanded as we've forged new relationships, delivered innovative solutions, and invested in initiatives to support this important market."

As a leading global solutions aggregator, TD SYNEX's relationship with Google Cloud has grown, including Google Workspace solutions, the expansion of its cloud solution portfolio with the addition of Google Cloud offerings, and now the Google Cloud public sector capabilities.

Additionally, TD SYNEX recently announced the launch of TD SYNEX Public Sector as a unified, purpose-driven brand that combines the strengths and decades of dedicated service to the U.S. public sector of three successful organizations — DLT Solutions, Tech Data Public Sector Solutions, and SYNEX GOVSolv.

"The evolution and expansion of the relationship between TD SYNEX and Google allows us to continue to bridge the gap between technology and the U.S. public sector organizations," Thompson added. "We have a track record of success within the U.S. public sector, and we have the right solutions and channels in place to open up new opportunities for public sector customers."

"Supporting digital transformation in the U.S. public sector is a priority for us and for our ecosystem of partners," said Troy Bertram, managing director, public sector partner sales at Google Cloud. "TD SYNEX provides critical expertise, scale, and distribution networks in the public sector. Expanding their capacity to deliver technology and capabilities like Google Workspace, cybersecurity capabilities, data analytics, AI, and ML to the public sector will help these organizations accelerate their digital transformation and accomplish their missions."
