

TD SYNnex Named Global Distributor for Aruba EdgeConnect

4/6/2023

FREMONT, Calif. & CLEARWATER, Fla.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- TD SYNnex (NYSE: SNX) has been selected by Aruba, a Hewlett Packard Enterprise (HPE) Company, as a global distributor for the Aruba EdgeConnect platform.

With distribution led by the TD SYNnex Global Solutions Team, Aruba EdgeConnect will be available through the organization's leading global IT ecosystem, serving more than 150 countries worldwide.

"We are thrilled to build upon our partnership with HPE as we integrate our leading global IT distribution and solutions aggregation services with the Aruba EdgeConnect platform," said Vince Stemen, SVP, Advanced Vendor Solutions at TD SYNnex. "TD SYNnex's dedicated Global Solutions Team enables our partners and vendors to deliver business outcomes at scale to multinational end users by simplifying complex distribution channels, centralizing team support, and streamlining global distribution."

Aruba EdgeConnect is a software-defined wide area network (SD-WAN) solution designed to help enterprises and organizations to improve the performance and security of their wide area networks (WANs). Edge Connect is a comprehensive SD-WAN solution that includes a range of advanced features such as dynamic path control, quality of service (QoS), and application-based policies that help to optimize the performance of enterprise applications over any transport network, including the public Internet.

"The Aruba EdgeConnect platform delivers comprehensive solutions for global customers, and as such it's vital we have a distribution partner that can support scaling at that level," said Donna Grothjan, vice president of Worldwide Channels for Aruba, a Hewlett Packard Enterprise company. "As a leading global IT distributor, TD SYNnex has a proven track record of delivering results, building relationships, and scaling business through global platforms."

TD SYNnex has a longstanding relationship with HPE, including being recognized as an HPE Global Distributor of the Year for 2022 for its innovation and commitment to working with HPE to help shared customers unleash their growth potential.

The TD SYNEX Global Solutions Team will build on existing EdgeConnect business, which has experienced significant double-digit growth, especially in regions outside of the United States, with a streamlined distribution process across the entire global IT ecosystem.
