

TD SYNnex Completes Share Acquisition of Gateway Computer Corporation, a Japanese IT Solutions and Services Provider

2025-10-01

- Share acquisition aimed at generating new business opportunities for TD SYNnex with international resellers and vendors operating in Japan.
- Gateway Computer to leverage TD SYNnex's global footprint for business expansion

TOKYO--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- TD SYNnex (NYSE: SNX) today announced that it has acquired the shares of Gateway Computer Corporation (hereinafter "Gateway Computer"), an IT solutions and services provider based in Japan. With over 40 years in operation, Gateway Computer has established strong capabilities and experience in serving non-Japanese customers, offering high value-added products and services from its multi-vendor linecard that encompasses both domestic and international manufacturers.

Gateway Computer's bilingual workforce of over 80 co-workers is expected to complement TD SYNnex's operations in Japan, further strengthening its ability to handle global projects centred on the Japanese market. TD SYNnex's global footprint and vendor relationships will enable Gateway Computer to expand its business and market presence and will strengthen its ability to deliver unparalleled specialized support to their partners and customers.

"We are excited to welcome Gateway Computer and its highly skilled team into the TD SYNnex family and for the new opportunities in our shared journey ahead. This share acquisition enables both companies to leverage our collective strengths to deliver higher value for our domestic, as well as international vendors, partners, and customers in Japan," shared Shigetaka Kunimochi, President of TD SYNnex Japan.

As a group company of TD SYNnex Japan, Gateway Computer will continue to function as a separate organization. Hidekazu Hayashi, President of Gateway Computer Corporate, will continue to lead the business and will report to Shigetaka Kunimochi, President of TD SYNnex Japan.
