Code of Ethics for Financial Executives

It is critical to the success of the Company and in the best interests of its stockholders that its employees conduct themselves honestly and ethically. In particular, each of the “Financial Executives” (defined as the Chief Executive Officer, the Chief Financial Officer, the Controller and any other senior officer with financial oversight responsibilities) of Corindus Vascular Robotics, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), are required to observe the highest standards of ethical business conduct, including strict adherence to this Code of Ethics for Financial Executives. Accordingly, each Financial Executive must comply with the letter and spirit of the following principles and responsibilities governing their professional and ethical conduct:

1. Act with honesty and integrity, avoiding actual or apparent conflicts of interest in personal and professional relationships.
2. Provide information that is accurate, complete, objective, relevant, timely and understandable. For purposes of this Code, the phrase “actual or apparent conflict of interest” shall be broadly construed and include, for example, direct conflicts, indirect conflicts, potential conflicts, apparent conflicts and any other personal, business or professional relationship or dealings that have a reasonable possibility of creating even the appearance of impropriety.
3. Ensure that all reasonable and necessary steps within his or her areas of responsibility are taken to provide full, fair, accurate, timely and understandable disclosure in reports and documents that the Company files with or submits to the Securities and Exchange Commission or state regulators, and in all other regulatory filings.
4. Comply with rules and regulations of federal, state, provincial and local governments, and other appropriate private and public regulatory agencies.
5. Act in good faith, responsibly, with due care, competence and diligence, without misrepresenting material facts or allowing independent judgment to be subordinated and provide full, fair, accurate and understandable information whenever communicating with the Company’s shareholders or the general public.
6. Respect the confidentiality of information acquired in the course of the Financial Executive's work except when authorized or otherwise legally obligated to disclose. Confidential information acquired in the course of the Financial Executive's work may not be used for personal advantage.
7. Proactively promote ethical behavior as a responsible partner among peers in the Financial Executive’s work environment.
8. Notify promptly the Chair of the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors (the “Audit Committee”) regarding any actual or potential violation of this Code by any of the Financial Executives. It is the duty of the Chairman of the Audit Committee to conduct or seek an appropriate investigation of the alleged violation by an appropriate disinterested party.
