SpaceX to Invest in the Next Generation of Americans

November 25, 2026

SpaceX announced a commitment to contribute one newly issued share of its Class A common stock to every currently active Trump Account, the tax-advantaged investment accounts that help American children build long-term savings. As part of his pledge to donate one SpaceX share to every kid in America, SpaceX's CEO Elon Musk will personally match the number of shares donated by SpaceX.

In her own commitment to the next American generation, SpaceX's President and COO Gwynne Shotwell has separately announced a personal gift of over 2 million SpaceX shares.

SpaceX is building the infrastructure of the future and working to make life multiplanetary. We believe ownership of the company creating these systems should extend to the next generation of Americans for their long-term benefit.
