

Conflict Disclosure

Morningstar, Inc. (and in some cases, its affiliates) provides information, data, analyses, reports and opinions regarding investment options (collectively, "Morningstar Information") for informational purposes. Morningstar Information should not be the sole piece of information used by financial professionals or investor in making an investment decision. Please note, "Morningstar" is used throughout this section to refer to Morningstar, Inc. and/or its affiliates, as applicable.

Analytical content can be quantitatively-driven or analyst-driven (i.e., opinions expressed and prepared by the person(s) noted in their capacity as an analyst for Morningstar's Research Group), or a combination. Any opinions expressed are given in good faith, are as of the date of the analysis or report they are published in, and are subject to change without notice. Neither the analyst nor Morningstar commits themselves in advance to whether and in which intervals updates to Morningstar Information are expected to be made. Written analysis, ratings, rankings, scores, etc. are statements of opinions; they are not statements of fact.

Morningstar believes reasonable efforts are made by its analysts to carefully research information contained in their analysis and by the Quantitative Research team in creating methodologies and choosing supporting data. The information on which the analysis is based has been obtained from sources which are believed to be reliable such as, for example, the fund's prospectus and shareholder reports (or their equivalents), company websites, interviews with company personnel, and relevant and appropriate press sources as well as data, statistics and information within Morningstar's own databases. While Morningstar, its analysts, and the Quantitative Research team has obtained data, statistics and information from sources it believes to be reliable, the data, statistics, and information has not been audited or independently verified.

Unless otherwise provided in a separate agreement, users accessing Morningstar Information may only use it in the country in which the Morningstar distributor is based. Unless stated otherwise, the original distributor of the Morningstar Information is Morningstar Inc., a U.S.A. domiciled financial institution.

Morningstar Information is for informational purposes only and has no regard to the specific investment objectives, financial situation or particular needs of any specific recipient. Publications are intended to provide information to assist investors in making their own investment decisions, not to provide investment advice to any specific investor. Therefore, investments discussed and recommendations made in Morningstar Information may not be suitable for all investors; users must exercise their own independent judgment as to the suitability of such investments and recommendations in the light of their own investment objectives, experience, taxation status and financial position.

Morningstar Information is not warranted to be accurate, correct, complete or timely. Unless otherwise provided in a separate agreement, Morningstar makes no representation that the Morningstar Information contents meet all of the presentation and/or disclosure standards applicable in the jurisdiction where the recipient is located.

Except as otherwise required by law or provided for in a separate agreement, the analyst, Morningstar, and its officers, directors and employees will not be responsible or liable for any trading decisions, damages or other losses resulting from, or related to, the Morningstar Information. Morningstar encourages users to read all relevant issue documents (e.g., prospectus) pertaining to the security concerned, including without limitation, information relevant to its investment objectives, risks, and costs before making an investment decision and when deemed necessary, to seek the advice of a legal, tax, and/or accounting professional.

Morningstar Information is not directed to, or intended for distribution to or use by, any person or entity who is a citizen or resident of or located in any locality, state, country or other jurisdiction where such distribution, publication, availability or use would be contrary to law or regulation or which would subject Morningstar or its affiliates to any registration or licensing requirements in such jurisdiction.

Where Morningstar Information is made available in a language other than English and in the case of inconsistencies between the English and translated versions of the Morningstar Information, the English version will control and supersede any ambiguities associated with any part or section that has been issued in a foreign language. Neither the analyst nor Morningstar guarantee the accuracy of the translations.

Morningstar Information may be distributed in certain localities, countries and/or jurisdictions ("Territories") by independent third parties or independent intermediaries ("Distributors"). Such Distributors are not acting as agents or representatives of the analyst or Morningstar. In Territories where a Distributor distributes our Report, the Distributor, and not the analyst or Morningstar, is solely responsible for complying with all applicable regulations, laws, rules, circulars, codes and guidelines established by local and/or regional regulatory bodies, including laws in connection with the distribution third-party research reports.

For a list of investments which Morningstar currently covers and provides written analysis on, or for the historical analysis of covered securities and/or their ratings, please contact your local Morningstar office.

Please note that investments in securities (including managed investments) are subject to market and other risks and there is no assurance or guarantee that the intended investment objectives will be achieved. Past performance of a security may or may not be sustained in future and is no indication of future performance. A security's investment return and an investor's principal value will fluctuate so that, when redeemed, an investor's shares may be worth more or less than their original cost. A security's current investment performance may be lower or higher than the investment performance noted within the report.

In certain jurisdictions, certain related Morningstar Information may be shared with the investment company prior to publication. In the unlikely event that Morningstar would change their analysis/opinions and/or ratings based on feedback as result of such review, Morningstar would disclose such a fact.

Conflicts of Interest

- Analysts within Morningstar's Manager Research Group may own (actual or beneficial) interests in the managed investments that are the subject of an investment research report. No material interests are held by the analyst or their immediate family in the managed investments that are the subject of the report. Manager research analysts have not received or purchased shares in the managed investments that are the subject of an investment research report prior to a public offering of such shares.

- No interests are held by equity research analysts with respect to the securities they cover.
- In general, Morningstar will not hold a material interest in the managed investments that are the subject of a report. If a material interest is held by Morningstar, or if Morningstar owns a net long or short position in a managed investment or security that is the subject of an investment research report that exceeds 0.5% of the total issued share capital of the security, it will be disclosed at <https://www.morningstar.com/company/disclosures/holdings>.
- Morningstar employees' compensation is derived from Morningstar's overall earnings and consists of salary, bonus and in some cases restricted stock.
- Neither Morningstar nor its analysts receive compensation or material benefits from product issuers or third parties in connection with a report.
- Morningstar's overall earnings are generated in part by the activities of the Investment Management and Research groups, and other affiliates, who provide services to product issuers.
- Morningstar does not receive commissions for providing research and does not charge managed investment issuers or companies to be rated.
- Neither Morningstar, nor the Equity Research Group is a market maker or a liquidity provider of securities noted within an investment research report.
- Neither Morningstar, nor the Equity Research Group has been a lead manager or co-lead manager over the previous 12 months of any publicly disclosed offer of financial instruments of an issuer whose securities are the subject of an investment research report.
- Morningstar employees may not pursue business and employment opportunities outside Morningstar within the investment industry (including but not limited to, working as a financial planner, an investment professional or investment professional representative, a broker-dealer or broker-dealer agent, a financial writer, reporter, or analyst) without the approval of Morningstar's Legal and if applicable, Compliance teams.
- Morningstar may provide investment product issuers or their related entities with services or products for a fee and on an arms' length basis including software products and licenses, research and consulting services, data services, licenses to republish our ratings and research in their promotional material, event sponsorship and website advertising.
- Certain managed investments use an index created by and licensed from Morningstar, Inc. as their tracking index. We mitigate any actual or potential conflicts of interests resulting from that by not producing qualitative analysis on any such managed investment as well as imposing informational barriers (both technology and non-technology), having separate organizational reporting lines between the Manager Research Group and Morningstar's Index team, and monitoring by the compliance department. However, such managed investments are eligible to receive quantitative ratings, which assigns ratings based on a machine-learning algorithm.
- Morningstar's Investment Management group has arrangements with financial institutions to provide portfolio management/investment advice, some of which an analyst may issue investment research reports on. In addition, the Investment Management group creates and maintains model portfolios whose underlying holdings can include financial products, including investments that may be the subject of an investment research report. However, analysts do not have authority over Morningstar's Investment Management group's business arrangements nor allow employees from the Investment Management group to participate or influence the analysis or opinion prepared by them.

- Morningstar, Inc. is a publicly traded company (Ticker Symbol: MORN) and thus a managed investment which is the subject of this Report may own more than 5% of Morningstar, Inc.'s total outstanding shares. Please access Morningstar, Inc.'s most recent Proxy Statement and refer to the section titled "Security Ownership of Certain Beneficial Owners and Management" at <https://shareholders.morningstar.com/investor-relations/financials/sec-filings/default.aspx>. A managed investment's holding of Morningstar stock has no bearing on and is not a requirement for managed investments Morningstar determines to cover.

Analysts do not have any other material conflicts of interest at the time of publication. Users wishing to obtain further information should contact their local Morningstar office or refer to <http://global.morningstar.com/equitydisclosures>.

For Recipients in Canada: Investment research reports or Morningstar Information are not prepared subject to Canadian disclosure requirements.
