Fujitsu Grants JDSU the 2015 Distinguished Partner Award

2015-01-28

Recognized for Long Standing Partnership and Next-Generation Optical Solutions

Milpitas, Calif., January 28, 2015 – JDSU (NASDAQ: JDSU) today announced that Fujitsu, a leading electronics corporation, granted JDSU the 2015 Distinguished Partner Award at its recent supplier event that included more than 600 attendees in Tokyo, Japan.

JDSU was the only optical solutions vendor recognized out of a base of approximately 300 suppliers. Only a total of fifteen suppliers were recognized overall.

JDSU received the award for its long standing relationship with Fujitsu and for its continued contribution of next-generation optical solutions to Fujitsu’s network business. JDSU provides a wide range of technology to Fujitsu that support increasingly flexible and faster network architectures.

“JDSU is extremely honored to receive the Distinguished Partner Award from Fujitsu,” said Alan Lowe, president of Communications and Commercial Optical Products at JDSU. “We look forward to continuing our long and close partnership with Fujitsu to help them stay ahead of the rapid pace of change happening in optical networks today.”
