“We are pleased to welcome Mehul to the Adtalem team. His extensive international education expertise and proven track record of driving profitable growth will position us well for FY18 and beyond,” said Lisa Wardell, president and CEO of Adtalem. “His operational and M&A experience spans six continents, giving him a unique perspective on the global market for professional education. His leadership will be critical to our future growth in this sector.”

Adtalem’s professional education vertical includes: ACAMS, the largest global membership organization dedicated to the training of anti-money laundering and financial crime prevention professionals; Becker Professional Education, a leader in CPA test preparation and other professional exam reviews; and Adtalem’s investment in EduPristine, India's leading training provider for international certifications in finance, accounting and analytics.

Most recently, Patel was president of Apollo Global, the international education conglomerate within Apollo Education Group, Inc. While leading Apollo Global, he oversaw a network of businesses across the United Kingdom, Germany, Mexico, Brazil, Chile, Australia, India and South Africa. Working with the global executive team, he developed and executed on the unit’s strategic framework and annual operating plan. Other duties included co-directing corporate development activities, including M&A and partnership deals, and post-acquisition integration. Prior to Apollo Global, he served as president of Kaplan Professional Publishing and Kaplan Professional Schools, where he served as the executive leader of two professional education business units. Earlier, Patel had key roles at Thomson Learning/NETg where he helped develop and manage the company’s products and services in the corporate and professional learning verticals.

Patel received his bachelor's degree from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. He is currently on the board of directors for No Barriers, an organization dedicated to helping individuals break through personal obstacles and challenges through transformative life experiences and educational programs.
