Designation recognizes the Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) degree program's online RN to BSN option

CHICAGO--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Chamberlain University, which has the largest nursing school in the U.S., today announced that its BSN degree program's online RN to BSN option was awarded Exemplary Online Program status by Quality Matters (QM), an international leader for quality assurance in online and innovative digital teaching and learning environments. This marks the first-ever RN to BSN program offered online to have received this prestigious honor, according to QM.

"We are honored to have received the Quality Matters Exemplary Online Program status as it affirms our commitment to a high-quality education and to ensuring that we are making learning accessible to students who represent a diverse range of backgrounds and life situations," said Chamberlain University President Karen Cox, PhD, RN, FACHE, FAAN.

QM Exemplary Online Program status for Chamberlain's RN to BSN option is achieved by earning recognition in all four QM Program Certification categories – Program Design, Teaching Support, Learner Support and Learner Success – within a three-year period. According to Quality Matters, Chamberlain University is one of only three institutions to attain the QM Exemplary Online Program status within the last three years.
