DeVry University Scholarship and Grant provides lifetime award funding for qualified students

DOWNERS GROVE, Ill.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- DeVry University has announced it is offering a DeVry University Scholarship and Grant for new and readmitted undergraduate students. The merit-based award is designed to give qualified students an opportunity to be rewarded for their academic performance as they make their way to graduation. Initial awards are based on a student's incoming grade point average, with subsequent awards determined annually based on the student's cumulative GPA. Eligible students can receive up to $25,000 in lifetime award funding for bachelor's degree students and up to a $12,500 lifetime award cap for associate degree students.

The university has earmarked $65 million in scholarship awards for the 2015–2016 academic year.

"Since our founding in 1931, DeVry University has been focused on students' success," said Robert Paul, president of DeVry University. "We know that college affordability affects degree attainability, so we are proud to provide financial support that helps students not only begin but also complete their degree programs."
