Universal Display Corporation Added to the NASDAQ Clean Edge Green Energy Index

EWING, N.J.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Universal Display Corporation (NASDAQ: PANL), enabling energy-efficient displays and lighting with its UniversalPHOLED™ technology and materials, today announced that the Company has been added to the NASDAQ® Clean Edge® Green Energy Index. The company's addition to the Index became effective on Monday, March 22, 2010.

The addition to the NASDAQ® Clean Edge® Green Energy Index highlights Universal Display's role in developing and providing energy-efficient UniversalPHOLED technology and high-quality, state-of-the-art UniversalPHOLED materials to developers and manufacturers of OLED displays and lighting products. Displays and lighting panels made with UniversalPHOLED technology and materials have the potential to be up to four times more energy efficient than other OLEDs and, thus, consume less power. UniversalPHOLED technology and materials are also eco-friendly and provide numerous environmental benefits.

Today, a variety of smart phones and other portable electronics contain OLED displays using UniversalPHOLED technology and materials. In addition, UniversalPHOLED technology and materials are enabling the continued advances in white OLED performance reported by the company through the U.S. Department of Energy Solid State Lighting initiative and by a number of its partners around the world.

The NASDAQ® Clean Edge® Green Energy Index is the basis for the First Trust NASDAQ Clean Edge Green Energy Index Fund (NASDAQ:QCLN), which seeks investment results that correspond generally to the price and yield of the NASDAQ® Clean Edge® Green Energy Index before fees and expenses.

The index is designed to track the performance of clean-energy companies that are publicly traded in the U.S. The index includes companies engaged in the manufacturing, development, distribution, and installation of emerging clean-energy technologies including solar photovoltaics, biofuels and advanced batteries. The securities must also meet other eligibility criteria which include: minimum requirements for market value, average daily share volume, and price. The index is evaluated on a semi-annual basis in March and September.
