

Longtime Finance Leader and Life Sciences Executive Paul Parker Elected to Clorox Board

11/18/2020

OAKLAND, Calif., Nov. 18, 2020 /PRNewswire/ -- The Clorox Company (NYSE:CLX) announced today that Paul Parker was formally elected to serve on its board of directors. Currently a corporate officer and senior vice president of strategy and corporate development for Thermo Fisher Scientific Inc., he has spent more than three decades within the financial services industry, with a focus on global mergers and acquisitions and investment banking.

"Paul's deep experience in finance, M&A and strategy will contribute important perspective to the board going forward," said Clorox lead independent director Pamela Thomas-Graham. "This expertise will be especially valuable as Clorox looks to build on its momentum and support its ambition of accelerating long-term growth."

Paul's deep experience in finance, M&A and strategy will contribute important perspective to the board going forward.	At Thermo Fisher, Parker, 57, is responsible for corporate strategy, mergers and acquisitions, corporate social responsibility, government relations, and digital marketing and e-commerce. He previously served as chairman of global M&A at Goldman Sachs & Co. and held senior finance leadership roles at Barclays and Lehman Brothers.
