Weave Launches Full-Scale Payments Platform

2019-12-03

Weave Payments offers full payment processing bundled with Weave's powerful communication suite LEHI, Utah, Dec. 3, 2019 /PRNewswire/ -- Weave, the complete business toolbox for service-based businesses and one of the fastest-growing companies in tech, today announced the public debut of Weave Payments, a full-scale payment processing platform for small to medium businesses (SMBs). The platform, complete with merchant services, joins Weave's powerful communication suite to make processing payments extremely simple for SMBs with features including Text to Pay, fast-processing terminals and mobile wallets. Weave Payments also saves time by significantly reducing backend paperwork and reporting-- as everything from payments to appointments is integrated within Weave's toolbox.

The Weave Payment platform combines the power and convenience of Text to Pay with the ease and efficiency of the Weave Payments credit card terminal and virtual terminal. Text to Pay is a powerful, convenient feature that allows businesses to collect payments via text from customers who are not onsite, have forgotten their credit card, or who owe additional money past an initial payment that was collected at the time of service. With the addition of Weave Payments' credit card processing and virtual terminal, businesses can accept all forms of payment, making collecting a payment convenient and easier than ever.

"Weave Payments is an integral part of the end-to-end Weave platform. Weave offers solutions for every step of the business process--from the first phone call to the final invoice," said Jefferson Lyman, Chief Product Officer at Weave. "Business owners want to provide the best experience for their customers throughout every interaction--whether it's communications, appointment scheduling, payment processing, or garnering online reviews--it all can be done in Weave's cohesive platform."

"We've been a customer of Weave Payments for several weeks now, and we are saving a significant amount of time by using it. We no longer have to reconcile multiple payment processing systems at the end of the day. It's so simple to use, I can't imagine running our business without it," said Dr. Karin Hatami, owner of Hatami Dental in Redlands, California. "And the ease of running it all right within our Weave application is the icing on the cake!"
