The Deloitte Technology Fast 500 list, now in its 28th year, constitutes the most innovative and fastest-growing technology companies in North America. Companies are ranked based on their percentage growth over a five-year period. Weave's addition to this list comes one year after its initial public offering on the New York Stock Exchange.

"We are incredibly proud to be named to the Deloitte Technology Fast 500 List this year," said Brett White, CEO of Weave. "It's been a year since we went public and our team has not slowed down. Being named to this list further confirms the market opportunity we have before us as we deliver top-notch communication and engagement solutions to the small healthcare practices that are the backbone of our communities."

This is the first year Weave has been named to the Deloitte Technology Fast 500 list. In the past year, Weave has grown the offerings included in its all-in-one platform — adding a Buy Now, Pay Over Time solution, a revamped Online Scheduling tool, and an Insurance Verification product for dental practices. Weave's revenue growth was recognized through inclusion on the Utah Business Fast 50 list and the MountainWest Capital Network Utah 100 this year.
