AMPHENOL MOURNS THE LOSS OF BOARD MEMBER DIANA G. REARDON

Wallingford, Connecticut, November 12, 2019. Amphenol Corporation (NYSE: APH) is deeply saddened to announce the passing of its Director and retired Chief Financial Officer, Diana G. Reardon. Diana was a valued member of the Amphenol organization for more than 31 years. She joined the Company in 1988 and served in a variety of finance positions before being appointed Corporate Controller in 1994. She was promoted to Chief Financial Officer in 2004, and served in that role until her retirement in 2015, at which point she was appointed to the Company's Board of Directors.

R. Adam Norwitt, President and Chief Executive Officer, said "Throughout Diana's 31 years in the Amphenol family, she consistently helped each of us to achieve a level of greatness that collectively is reflected in Amphenol's superior performance. Through her coaching and challenging, as well as her support and encouragement, she truly made all of us better Amphenolians. Having worked with Diana for more than 21 years, I am saddened by her passing and extend my deepest condolences to her husband, children and extended family."

Martin H. Loeffler, Chairman of the Board, said “Diana has been a treasured leader within Amphenol since joining the Company in 1988. As Corporate Controller and later Chief Financial Officer working with both Adam and me, she helped to create Amphenol’s high-performance culture and to lead the Company’s expansion, which ultimately generated significant value for our shareholders and stakeholders around the world. We will miss her dearly, but are confident that the values that she helped to instill in the Company will live on for many years to come.”
