TopBloc Named 2025 Workday Business Impact Partner of the Year

2025-03-12

TopBloc team honored for transformative customer outcomes and record-breaking number of Workday implementations

CHICAGO--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- TopBloc, a leading Workday Services Partner and ASGN brand (NYSE: ASGN) is pleased to announce that it has been named the 2025 Workday Partner of the Year for Business Impact. This prestigious award celebrates the Workday partner that has driven measurable, transformative customer outcomes, acting as a true catalyst for change.

During Workday's Sales Kickoff Event earlier this month, TopBloc was recognized for delivering a record number of Workday implementations over the past year. TopBloc's achievements extend well beyond the quantity of platform deployments. This level of service excellence has been particularly notable in Workday's rapidly growing Medium Enterprise segment, underscoring TopBloc's outstanding ability to deliver high-quality results at scale.

"We are deeply honored to receive the 2025 Workday Business Impact Partner of the Year award," said TopBloc's Chief Executive Officer, Christopher Skinner. "This recognition is not only a testament to the strong partnership between TopBloc and Workday, but also reflects the outstanding results achieved by our clients. Our customers' success stories highlight the transformative power of our collaboration. With TopBloc now officially part of ASGN, we are excited to leverage our enhanced resources to deliver even greater outcomes for a broader range of clients."

TopBloc's investment in technology has enabled the company to deliver the most deployments in Workday's ecosystem while at the same time driving positive client outcomes. Tools such as SmartLoader, the company's proprietary data transformation and validation tool now in its eighth year of use, accelerate the timeline of deployment projects through automation — enabling faster, higher-quality deployments.

As the Human Resources Information System and Enterprise Resource Planning industries move toward embracing technology to enhance efficiency through automation, surface critical insights in data, and optimize business processes, TopBloc is furthering its AI-driven solutions to expand the power of its tools and services, helping clients maximize the value of their Workday systems.
