

Executive & Personnel Bios

Raj Subramaniam
President and Chief Executive Officer
FedEx Corporation

Raj Subramaniam is president, chief executive officer, and board member of FedEx Corporation, serving as president since 2019 and becoming the company's second chief executive officer in 2022. He leads FedEx's global transformation, focusing on operating strategy, e-commerce growth, and leveraging supply chain data to drive future innovation.

With more than 30 years at FedEx, Subramaniam has held leadership roles in operations and marketing, including president and chief operating officer, and is recognized for his international expertise and business insight. He also serves on the board of Procter & Gamble and holds leadership positions in organizations such as the President's Export Council, Business Roundtable, and the U.S.-India CEO Forum.

Originally from Trivandrum, India, Subramaniam earned a bachelor's in chemical engineering from IIT, a master's in chemical engineering from Syracuse University, and an MBA from The University of Texas at Austin. He is a 2023 recipient of the Pravasi Bharatiya Samman Award, India's highest civilian honor for the diaspora.

John Dietrich
Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer
FedEx Corporation

John Dietrich is executive vice president and chief financial officer of FedEx Corporation, where he oversees the corporation's global financial functions. His responsibilities encompass strategic financial planning, corporate development, investor relations, treasury, tax, internal audit, accounting, and controls. He is also a member of FedEx's eight-person executive committee, which plans and executes the corporation's strategic business objectives.

He is a seasoned aviation executive with a legal and operational background who, prior to joining FedEx, served in several leadership roles at Atlas Air Worldwide—rising from associate general counsel in 1999 to senior vice president, general counsel and corporate secretary, then president in 2019 and chief executive officer from 2020 to 2023. He also spent 13 years at United Airlines, including seven as a litigation attorney. He also contributes broadly to the industry as chairman of the National Defense Transportation Association and as a director of AAR Corporation and First Horizon Corporation, and has held leadership positions with Airlines for America, the National Air Carrier Association, and the International Air Transport Association.

He earned a bachelor's degree from Southern Illinois University Carbondale and a Doctor of Law, cum laude, from the University of Illinois Chicago School of Law.

Executive & Personnel Bios

Gina Adams
Executive Vice President, General Counsel and Secretary
FedEx Corporation

Gina Adams is executive vice president, general counsel, and secretary of FedEx Corporation, overseeing the company's international and domestic legal, security, and government affairs. She is a member of the executive committee that guides FedEx's strategic initiatives.

She joined FedEx in 1992 as managing attorney for International Regulatory Affairs and later served as corporate vice president, Government and Regulatory Affairs before becoming general counsel in 2024. Adams has shaped FedEx policy with government officials and industry groups and began her career in the U.S. Department of Transportation's Attorney Honors Program.

Adams holds a B.S. in Public Affairs from American University, a J.D. from Howard University School of Law, and an LL.M. in International and Comparative Law from Georgetown University Law Center, and she has honorary Doctor of Laws degrees from Trinity Washington University and the University of the District of Columbia. She serves on multiple nonprofit and business boards, is a four-time FedEx Five Star Award recipient, and has been inducted into the D.C. Hall of Fame and honored with the Economic Club of Washington's Arne M. Sorenson Excellence in Leadership Award.

Tracy Brightman
Executive Vice President and Chief People Officer
FedEx Corporation

Tracy Brightman is executive vice president and chief people officer at FedEx Corporation, leading global human resources, including talent development, succession planning, compensation and benefits, workforce strategy, change management, and HR operations. She oversees talent acquisition, retention, and development worldwide and serves on the company's executive committee.

Brightman previously spent 20 years at FedEx Office in leadership roles across Legal and Human Resources, including general counsel and senior vice president. Before joining FedEx, she served as vice president and assistant general counsel at Associates First Capital Corporation/Citigroup and practiced law at private firms.

She holds a J.D. from the University of Virginia School of Law and a B.A. in English from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Brightman is admitted to the State Bar of Texas, serves on the Memphis Botanic Garden board, and joined the SHRM Executive Council in 2024.

Executive & Personnel Bios

Brie Carere
Executive Vice President and Chief
Customer Officer
FedEx Corporation

Brie Carere is executive vice president and chief customer officer of FedEx Corporation, responsible for global commercial strategy across sales, marketing, product, e-commerce, digital, and customer experience. She is also a member of the FedEx Executive Committee.

Carere joined FedEx in 2001 as a marketing specialist and has held leadership roles including senior vice president of Global Portfolio Marketing and vice president of Marketing, Customer Experience, and Corporate Communications for FedEx Express Canada, overseeing commercial and digital strategy across FedEx Express, Ground, and Freight in Canada. Carere serves on the board of ZipRecruiter and was named a Henry Crown Fellow by The Aspen Institute in 2023.

Originally from Ontario, Canada, she holds a B.S. in Commerce from McMaster University. Carere is a three-time FedEx Five Star Award recipient and serves on the boards of Habitat for Humanity of Greater Memphis and the University Schools Innovative School District Strategic Expansion Taskforce.

Kawal Preet
Executive Vice President, Planning,
Engineering, and Transformation
FedEx Corporation

Kawal Preet is executive vice president, Planning, Engineering, and Transformation at FedEx Corporation, where she leads a global, centralized planning and engineering function. She also oversees the DRIVE initiatives that are powering the company's ongoing transformation, including the integration of the FedEx network – a key component of the transformation.

She has a 28-year FedEx career, rising from associate engineer in Singapore to regional leadership roles in Hong Kong and APAC, including regional president where she led about 30,000 team members through the pandemic. Prior FedEx roles include managing director (2006) and vice president of APAC Planning and Engineering (2014); she also led the AMEA region beginning in 2020.

Preet was named by Fortune in 2025 among the most powerful women in Asia, serves as a Non-Executive Director at Intertek Group PLC, and has held board roles with the US-ASEAN Business Council and Junior Achievement Asia Pacific. Originally from India, Preet holds a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering from Maulana Azad National Institute of Technology in India and received her MBA from Macquarie Graduate School of Management in Australia.

Executive & Personnel Bios

Richard Smith
Chief Operating Officer,
International, and Chief Executive Officer, Airline
Federal Express Corporation

Richard Smith is chief operating officer, International, and chief executive officer, Airline, FedEx, and was elected to the FedEx Board of Directors in September 2025. He serves on the executive committee, helping set the enterprise's strategic direction.

Smith led FedEx Express as president and chief executive officer from 2022–2024, after serving as regional president of the Americas and executive president of Global Support, where he directed U.S. government COVID-19 vaccine distribution. Since joining FedEx in 2005, he has held leadership roles in FedEx Logistics, life sciences/healthcare, network planning, and customer solutions.

He serves on the boards of IATA, Airlines for America, and the Greater Memphis Chamber Chairman's Circle, and co-leads FedEx's work with the Yale Center for Natural Carbon Capture. Smith holds an undergraduate degree from George Washington University and a J.D. from the University of Mississippi School of Law.

Vishal Talwar
Executive Vice President and Chief
Digital and Information Officer,
President of FedEx Dataworks
FedEx Corporation

Vishal Talwar is executive vice president, chief digital and information officer of FedEx Corporation and president of FedEx Dataworks, having joined the company in August 2025. He leads the global digital transformation, driving data- and AI-powered solutions, enterprise architecture, and cybersecurity to optimize the FedEx network, elevate customer experience, and create new digital revenue.

Prior to joining FedEx, Talwar served as senior managing director and chief growth officer for Accenture Technology, where he led global offerings, solutions, and go-to-market teams that helped Fortune Global 2000 clients use technology to fuel growth and operational efficiency. His career also includes leadership roles at Wipro, Dell Services, and IBM, where he built expertise across cloud, data, AI, and digital infrastructure.

Talwar earned his Bachelor of Engineering from Walchand College of Engineering and his post-graduate degree in Business Administration with a focus in Sales and Marketing from SVKM's Narsee Monjee Institute of Management Studies.

Executive & Personnel Bios

Scott Ray
Chief Operating Officer-elect for U.S. and Canada Surface Operations
Federal Express Corporation

Scott Ray is the chief operating officer-elect for U.S. and Canada Surface Operations as of February 1. His role will take effect June 1.

Ray began with RPS in 1987 as a package handler. FedEx acquired RPS in 1998, enabling the establishment of FedEx Ground. Ray advanced through management and leadership roles, becoming executive vice president and chief operating officer of FedEx Ground in 2022 before his current appointment.

He holds a bachelor's degree from Ohio State University and is a multiple recipient of FedEx honors, including the Five Star Award, President's Club Award, Hub Manager of the Year, Region of the Year, and the Human Resource Excellence Award.

Wouter Roels
Regional President of Europe
Federal Express Corporation

Wouter Roels assumed his current role as regional president of FedEx Europe in July 2024. In this role, Roels leads a team of more than 47,000 across the region and is responsible for overall planning and implementation of corporate strategies. Europe includes about 50 of the more than 220 countries and territories served globally by FedEx.

Roels joined FedEx in 2001 as an associate marketing analyst and has held leadership roles across Europe, the U.S., and MEISA. Most recently he led Marketing and Customer Experience in Europe, driving commercial strategy, brand, product introductions, and digital channels, and led efforts to strengthen performance culture and deliver transformation benefits.

He holds a master's degree in applied economics from the University of Leuven and is a four-time recipient of the FedEx Five Star Award.

Jill Brannon
Executive Vice President and Chief Sales Officer
FedEx Corporation

Jill Brannon is executive vice president and chief sales officer at FedEx. Brannon has been at the forefront of driving strategic and disciplined revenue growth.

Previously, she was senior vice president of Sales for Europe, the Middle East, Indian Subcontinent, and Africa, where she led global acquisition, integration, and market expansion efforts, including the TNT global sales integration.

Brannon holds a degree in International Business and French from Lenoir-Rhyne University. She was appointed to the Otis Corporation board in 2023 (audit and nominations & governance committees) and serves on the advisory board of European Transport Solutions SARL; she has also served on the boards of the US-ASEAN Business Council and the International Children's Heart Foundation. Brannon represented FedEx in the 2022 Dress for Success "Your Hour, Her Power" campaign and has been recognized as a Top 100 Global Sales Leader (2020), featured in Diversity Journal's "Women Worth Watching" (2016), and listed among Hot Topics' "Top 100 Sales Leaders and Operations Executives" (2015).

Salil Chari
Regional President of Asia Pacific (APAC)
Federal Express Corporation

Salil Chari is regional president for FedEx Express Asia Pacific (APAC) Division. In this role, Chari leads a team of approximately 30,000 across the region and is responsible for setting the strategic direction, driving profitable growth and delivering outstanding experience and operational excellence in the region.

Chari began his career with the company in 1997 in Memphis as a marketing analyst. He has held various leadership positions across the company in Latin America (LAC), Asia Pacific (APAC) and Asia, Middle East and Africa (AMEA). Most recently, he was the senior vice president of Marketing and Customer Experience for FedEx Asia Pacific, responsible for commercial strategy and execution, improving customer experience and profitable market share gain.

Chari's success within the FedEx organization has been rewarded five times with the FedEx Five Star Award. He has also served as an advisory board member for the Salvation Army and the Americas Relief Team. Chari holds a bachelor's degree in chemical engineering from the India Institute of Technology Delhi, and an MBA from the Goizueta Business School at Emory University.

Executive & Personnel Bios

Matthew Daniel
Assistant Treasurer and Vice President of Corporate Finance and
Risk Management
FedEx Corporation

Matthew Daniel, CFA serves as assistant treasurer and vice president of Corporate Finance and Risk Management at FedEx. In this capacity, he oversees the company's capital structure, guiding enterprise liquidity, credit strength, and financing strategies.

He brings a wide-ranging financial background to the role, blending more than a decade of advancing leadership within the FedEx treasury organization with twenty years of prior experience in capital markets and multi-asset class investing. His career reflects expertise in global financial markets, funding strategies, and capital structure management—ensuring FedEx's financial strategy supports its broader corporate goals.

Matthew is a CFA Charterholder and earned both his bachelor's degree in economics and his master's degree in finance from the University of Tennessee, Knoxville. He is a three-time recipient of the FedEx Five Star Award.

Matt DeBerry
Staff Director of Investor Relations
FedEx Corporation

Matt DeBerry serves as a staff director of Investor Relations at FedEx, with primary responsibility for buy-side relationship management and investor targeting across the U.S. East Coast, U.S. Midwest, Canada, and parts of Europe. He is also the primary point of contact for many covering sell-side analysts and plays a key role in earnings call preparation, strategic messaging, and C-suite advisory.

DeBerry has been with FedEx for more than seven years, including six and a half years in various Investor Relations roles. Prior to joining FedEx, he worked in private wealth management.

He is a recipient of the FedEx Five Star Award and numerous FedEx Bravo Zulu awards. He holds the Investor Relations Charter (IRC) from the National Investor Relations Institute (NIRI) and was selected as a member of the NIRI 2023 Rising Leaders Under 40. He earned a bachelor's degree in business administration from Mississippi State University, an MBA from Louisiana State University at Shreveport, and a Master of Arts degree from the University of Notre Dame.

Executive & Personnel Bios

Alana Griffin
Vice President of Securities and
Corporate Law and Assistant
Secretary
FedEx Corporation

Alana Griffin is vice president of Securities and Corporate Law and Assistant Secretary of FedEx Corporation. She manages securities, corporate governance, and corporate finance matters, and supports the FedEx Board of Directors and its committees, investor relations, treasury, human resources, and sustainability functions.

Prior to joining FedEx in February 2020, Griffin was a partner at King & Spalding, LLP, where she advised clients on SEC disclosure, corporate governance, capital markets, and mergers and acquisitions. She also held senior legal roles as deputy general counsel and director of Regulatory Relations at Synovus Financial Corp., and as senior vice president and corporate secretary of HomeBanc Corp.

Griffin earned her undergraduate degree from the University of South Carolina and her Juris Doctor from Georgetown University Law Center. She is a FedEx Five Star Award recipient and was nominated for the 2025 EXCEL Leadership Class.

Trampas Gunter
Corporate Vice President of Corporate Development and Treasurer
FedEx Corporation

Trampas Gunter is the corporate vice president of Corporate Development and treasurer, FedEx Corporation. In this role, Gunter leads a global team responsible for all corporate development, treasury and corporate finance, retirement investments, and investor relations functions across the FedEx enterprise.

In his previous position as corporate vice president of Corporate Development, Gunter led all corporate development initiatives on behalf of FedEx Corporation and its global operating companies. Gunter joined FedEx Services in 2004 and has served as a founding member of the FedEx strategy team and staff director of Integration Planning. He assumed the role of staff vice president of Corporate Development and Integration Planning in 2015. Prior to FedEx, Trampas spent 10 years at Deloitte.

A two-time Five Star Award recipient, Gunter holds a BBA in Accounting from Texas A&M University, earned his CPA in 1994, and has an MBA from the University of Michigan Ross School of Business.

Executive & Personnel Bios

Jeni Hollander
Staff Vice President, Investor Relations
FedEx Corporation

As staff vice president, Investor Relations, Jeni Hollander leads the company's strategy for engaging with the investment community, runs the quarterly earnings process, and provides regular insights, based on investor feedback, to senior leadership and other key stakeholders.

Prior to joining FedEx in March of 2024, Hollander worked for nearly five years at Teneo, a strategic communications advisory firm. There, she was responsible for developing and implementing investor relations and corporate communications strategies for global clients across industries. Jeni began her career at Deutsche Bank, where she worked in institutional equity sales for 14 years. In that role, she marketed the firm's equity research product to investors based in the U.S.

She graduated magna cum laude from Harvard College with a B.A. in Economics, and is a CFA charterholder. Jeni participated in the 2025 FedEx EXCEL VP leadership program and is a member of the National Investor Relations Institute.

Stephen Hughes
Staff Director, Investor Relations
FedEx Corporation

Stephen Hughes is staff director, Investor Relations at FedEx Corporation, where he serves as a primary point of contact for the sell-side and leads engagement with institutional investors across the western United States, the Asia-Pacific region, and parts of Europe. He also oversees FedEx's quarterly earnings releases and the company's Investor Relations website. He has been a core member of the FedEx Investor Relations team since 1995.

A 44-year FedEx veteran, Hughes began his career in 1982 as a part-time package handler in operations and progressed through increasingly senior financial roles, including financial analyst positions supporting Human Resources and Finance Divisions and a senior financial analyst role overseeing the company's business planning process.

Hughes has been recognized by buy-side analysts and portfolio managers as the Best Investor Relations Professional in the Airfreight & Surface Transportation industry, according to surveys conducted by Institutional Investor magazine. He is a four-time FedEx Five Star Award recipient. A native of Memphis, Hughes holds both a bachelor's and a master's degree in finance from the University of Memphis and is an active member of the National Investor Relations Institute.

Executive & Personnel Bios

Jeff Lewis
Staff Vice President and Assistant
Treasurer, Global Cash Management
and Retirement Investments
FedEx Corporation

Jeff Lewis is staff vice president and assistant treasurer, Global Cash Management and Retirement Investments at FedEx Corporation. He oversees company liquidity and retirement assets totaling approximately $70 billion — including the U.S. pension plan (over $28 billion) and the U.S. 401(k) plan (about $40 billion — plus various international plans). He leads asset allocation, selection and oversight of fund managers, vendor relationships, and a 70-member Global Cash Management team that provides real-time treasury coverage across all major regions.

Lewis previously worked in internal finance at FedEx Services and held positions at Bolton Financial, Goldman Sachs (Private Client Services), and Cazenove Incorporated in the U.K.

Lewis holds an A.B. in History and Economics from Dartmouth College and an MBA from UNC-Chapel Hill's Kenan-Flagler Business School, where he was Beta Gamma Sigma. He is a CFA charterholder, chairs the City of Germantown Pension Commission, and serves on the boards of the CFA Society of Memphis and the Economics Club of Memphis; he has also held leadership and board roles with Junior Achievement and CIEBA.

Lisa Lisson
President of Air Operations
Federal Express Corporation

Lisa Lisson is president of Air Operations for FedEx, overseeing flight, technical, and network operations and global trade services, leading more than 50,000 team members to ensure safe, reliable operations across major air hubs and ramps.

She joined FedEx Express in 1992 and rose from associate marketing specialist to senior roles including senior vice president of Network Operations and president of FedEx Express Canada, where she led major infrastructure investments, fleet modernization, expanded service centers and retail network, and consistently top reputation rankings.

Lisson holds an Honors Bachelor of Commerce from the University of Guelph, is an inductee of the American Marketing Association Canada's Marketing Hall of Legends and the Women's Executive Network Hall of Fame, and received the Queen Elizabeth II Diamond Jubilee Medal. She is a bestselling author of the memoir Resilience and appeared on Canada's Undercover Boss.

Executive & Personnel Bios

Caitlin Adams Maier
Managing Director of Global Media and Public Affairs
FedEx Corporation

Caitlin Adams Maier is managing director of Global Media and Public Affairs at FedEx, leading a global team that protects and elevates the company's brand through strategic media relations, storytelling, and public affairs. Her team supports FedEx's innovation and transformation narratives, manages reputational risks with speed and precision, and influences policy and regulatory matters worldwide.

Previously, Adams Maier served as chief of staff to the president and chief executive officer, principal for Executive Communications to the chief operating officer, and senior social media strategist for FedEx Global Social Media. Prior to joining FedEx, she worked as a reporter for D Magazine and People Newspaper in Dallas.

Adams Maier holds a Master's in Journalism from Columbia University and a Bachelor's degree in Journalism, summa cum laude, from the University of Mississippi. She completed the FedEx New Director Fundamentals Program at UNC's Kenan-Flagler Business School and has received multiple industry recognitions, including a Shorty Award, PR News Awards, and features in Forbes, Huffington Post, and Entrepreneur.

Samantha Morris
Investor Relations Advisor
FedEx Corporation

Samantha Morris is an investor relations advisor at FedEx Corporation, where she supports enterprise-wide investor communications and capital markets engagement. In her role, she delivers in-depth financial analysis for quarterly earnings, investor targeting, and valuation benchmarking, while advising C-suite leadership on market trends, investor sentiment, and competitive positioning. She develops executive-level key messaging and manages relationships with institutional investors and sell-side analysts.

Previously, Morris held various tax roles across FedEx, most recently as tax solutions advisor in Tax Operations and Strategic Solutions, where she served as a program and project manager on complex, cross-functional initiatives, including enterprise ERP system consolidation, tax process optimization, and executive communications. At FedEx Services she specialized in sales & use tax, managing a multitude of tax exemptions, technology-related tax assignments, and supporting economic impact studies and abatements.

Morris earned an MBA, summa cum laude, and a BBA in Accounting, magna cum laude, from the University of Memphis. She is a recipient of multiple Bravo Zulu awards and a Shining Star award, and serves on the board of the DeNeuville Learning Center.

Executive & Personnel Bios

Steve Myers
Senior Vice President, Operations
Planning and Engineering
FedEx Corporation

Steve Myers is senior vice president, Operations Planning & Engineering for FedEx. He oversees all surface operations planning and engineering functions, including Dock, First & Last Mile and Process Engineering, Decision Science and Priority Metrics, Business Agility, Real Estate and Facilities, Technology Innovation, Operations Design, Network and Linehaul Engineering, and strategic projects.

He has more than 30 years with the company, joining FedEx Ground as a project engineer and advancing through engineering and operations roles before assuming his current position in 2020.

Myers holds a bachelor's degree from Lehigh University and a master's degree from the University of Pittsburgh. He is a multiple recipient of the FedEx Five Star Award, serves on the Salvation Army Advisory Board, supports Children's Hospital of Pittsburgh, was an Executive Champion for the 2014–2015 FedEx United Way Campaigns, and chairs the University of Pittsburgh Center for Supply Chain Management Council Advisory Board.

Jenny Robertson
Senior Vice President of Global Brand and Communications
FedEx Corporation

Jenny Robertson is the senior vice president of Global Brand and Communications at FedEx. In this role, she is responsible for managing the global FedEx brand and reputation through strategic communications, media relations, public affairs, citizenship, sponsorships, social media, and advertising.

Since joining FedEx in 2004, Robertson has held roles including vice president of Corporate Communications, director of Global Citizenship and Reputation Management, manager of Global Media Relations, and senior manager of Marketplace Communications for FedEx Office. Her work helped position FedEx among FORTUNE's 20 most admired companies. Prior to FedEx, she worked in PR and advertising at Archer Malmo.

A four-time FedEx Five Star Award recipient and PRWeek Hall of Femme 2021 honoree, Robertson serves as board chair for Memphis Brand and on boards for the Ole Miss Women's Council, Boston College Center for Corporate Citizenship, and Women's Foundation for a Greater Memphis. She graduated from the University of Mississippi.

Executive & Personnel Bios

Luiz Vasconcelos
Senior Vice President, President of Latin America and Caribbean (LAC) Division
Federal Express Corporation

As president of the Miami, Florida-based FedEx Latin America and Caribbean (LAC) Division, Luiz Vasconcelos maintains overall responsibility for the region, which includes approximately 23,000 employees in more than 50 countries and territories. Vasconcelos' primary focus is the broader strategic direction of U.S. International as well as magnifying the FedEx presence across the region. He is responsible for integrating the region into the FedEx global network, which serves more than 220 countries and territories worldwide.

Vasconcelos became vice president of Operations for FedEx Express Brazil in 2018, where he oversaw logistics, ground, air, and international services. He previously held leadership roles at Rapidão Cometa, acquired by FedEx in 2012, and in consulting with Ernst & Young and Versailles Group.

He holds a bachelor's in economics from the Catholic University of Pernambuco, a finance specialization from Harvard University Extension School, and an MBA from Northeastern University. Vasconcelos serves on the boards of Council of the Americas and CLADEC and co-chairs the Trade Facilitation Working Group for the U.S.-Mexico CEO Dialogue. He is a two-time FedEx Five Star Award recipient.

Kami Viswanathan
President of Middle East, Indian Subcontinent and Africa (MEISA)
Federal Express Corporation

Kami Viswanathan is president of the Middle East, Indian Subcontinent, and Africa (MEISA) region at FedEx, leading operations across more than 80 countries and territories and driving commercial growth and strategic partnerships in markets including India, the UAE, and Saudi Arabia.

She joined FedEx in February 2021 as vice president of Marketing for MEISA to lead regional strategy and corporate innovation out of India. Prior to FedEx, Viswanathan co-founded and served as co-chief executive officer of Lumina Datamatics, founded the cross-border investment firm work4.0 capital, and held roles in consulting and advisory, including at Arthur Andersen and GSV Ventures.

Viswanathan is a fellow of the Aspen Global Leadership Network and serves on the U.S.-India Business Council and Harvard Business School's South Asia advisory board. She holds an MBA from Harvard Business School and a B.A., LL.B. (Hons.) from the National Law School of India, where she graduated as a gold medalist.

Executive & Personnel Bios

Angela Wheland
Vice President, Global Communications
FedEx Corporation

Angela Wheland is vice president of Global Communications for FedEx, leading the team that shapes the company's narrative for media, team members, investors, board members, and other stakeholders.

Wheland joined FedEx Ground in 2008 and became vice president of Communications in 2013. Prior to her 2023 appointment leading global communications, she held corporate communications roles at Lanxess Corporation and Bayer Corporation.

She earned a bachelor's degree from La Roche University and a master's from Point Park University. Wheland serves on the Board of Leadership Pittsburgh, Inc., and is a two-time FedEx Five Star Award recipient. She was named a 2020 Pittsburgh Business Times Woman of Influence and participated in Harvard Business School's Young American Leaders Program.

R. Brad Martin
Executive Chairman and Chairman of the Board
FedEx Corporation

Mr. Martin serves as the executive chairman and chairman of the Board of Directors of FedEx Corporation, a position he has held since September 2025.

A member of the FedEx Board of Directors since 2011, he previously served as vice chairman. He served as chairman and chief executive officer of Riverview Acquisition Corp. from April 2021 until its merger with Westrock Coffee Company in August 2022. He is currently a member of the Board of Directors of Westrock Coffee Company. He was the chairman of the board of Chesapeake Energy Corporation from October 2015 to February 2021. Earlier in his career, he served as chairman and chief executive officer of Saks Incorporated from 1989 to 2006 and remained chairman until his retirement in 2007. Additionally, he has served in leadership roles and on the boards of numerous other public companies, including First Horizon National Corp., Caesars Entertainment Corp., Dillard's Inc., Gaylord Entertainment Company, lululemon athletica Inc., and Ruby Tuesday Inc. His career in public leadership and higher education includes five terms in the Tennessee House of Representatives and serving as the interim president of the University of Memphis from July 2013 to May 2014.

Martin holds a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Memphis, a Master of Business Administration from Vanderbilt University, and an honorary doctor of letters from the University of Memphis.