Brian will succeed Sensata's current Chief Financial Officer, Paul Vasington, who has decided to retire from the Company. Paul will remain with Sensata through a transition period and will remain as an advisor to Jeff Cote and Brian until April 2, 2024.

"I am excited to welcome Brian to Team Sensata," said Jeff Cote, Chief Executive Officer and President. "Brian's 30 years of finance and leadership experience will serve us well as we focus on strong and disciplined execution, margin expansion and debt reduction. Brian will be a critical leader for us as we continue along our transformation journey to become the driving force toward an electrified world and a sustainable future."

Brian boasts decades of finance, operational and leadership experience across several industries, including marketing and technology services, medical device manufacturing, and life sciences. Most recently, Brian was the Chief Executive Officer of Tarveda Therapeutics, a private venture backed oncology company, which he joined initially as CFO in 2018. Brian has extensive public company operating experience including as CFO at both Insulet Corporation (NASDAQ: PODD), a high-growth medical technology business and Digitas, Inc., through its successful acquisition by Publicis Groupe. Brian also has significant public Board experience including serving for eight years as Audit Committee Chair for ViewRay, Inc.

Brian started his career at Ernst & Young and is a Certified Public Accountant. He holds a Bachelor of Science in Accounting and Finance from Boston College.

“On behalf of our Board of Directors and everyone at Sensata, I want to thank Paul for his many years of service and dedication to our company, during a time of extensive change and disruption and wish him well on his well-earned retirement,” said Cote. “Paul has built a strong finance team that I am confident will continue to thrive under Brian’s leadership.”
