DocuSign and Harvey Partner to Bring Legal and Contract AI Together

2026-05-08

New capabilities connect legal reasoning with agreement workflows

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8, 2026 /PRNewswire/ -- DocuSign (NASDAQ: DOCU), the world's most trusted Intelligent Agreement Management (IAM) company, and Harvey, the leading AI platform for legal and professional services, today announced a strategic partnership that connects Harvey's legal reasoning platform with DocuSign's IAM contract AI platform, enabling legal teams to move from business insights to action across the full agreement lifecycle.

Together, the two platforms will deliver a seamless solution: Harvey powers legal analysis, cross-jurisdictional research, reviews and AI-driven drafting, while the DocuSign IAM platform connects this to agreement workflows across the organization and teams like sales, procurement, HR, and finance.

Eliminate the friction between legal analysis and agreement execution

Legal teams can prompt Harvey to retrieve and analyze specific agreements from DocuSign, cross-reference them against applicable law using Harvey's legal databases, and receive grounded, agreement-specific answers without manual document review. When updates are needed, teams can initiate DocuSign workflows directly from Harvey to generate, route, and support amendment and approval processes.

When working in DocuSign, legal professionals can access Harvey Knowledge directly through the new DocuSign Iris assistant. This brings external reasoning directly into the chat interface to help teams review agreements, generate risk summaries, and support approvals in a connected workflow.

"Legal teams shouldn't have to choose between speed and control when it comes to agreements," said Winston Weinberg, CEO of Harvey. "Together, Harvey and Docusign are helping connect legal reasoning with agreement workflows. By connecting the two platforms, we give teams a seamless way to move from AI-powered drafting and analysis to execution, negotiation, and management. That means faster deal cycles without sacrificing the governance and control teams rely on. We're proud to partner with Docusign and excited about the impact this integration will have for our customers."

"The legal teams of more than 1.8 million customers rely on Docusign to create, negotiate, sign, and manage their agreements on our trusted, secure platform," said Allan Thygesen, CEO of Docusign. "By partnering with Harvey, we're bringing expert legal intelligence directly into Docusign's agreement workflows, so legal teams can not only understand their agreements but use them to power work across the business."

This partnership underscores both companies' commitment to transforming how legal teams manage complex, high-volume transactions.
