Fortune Magazine Ranks CACI Among World's Most Admired Companies for 2014

ARLINGTON, Va.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- CACI International Inc (NYSE:CACI) announced today that it has been ranked by Fortune magazine as one of the World's Most Admired Companies for 2014 within both its industry and state. Described as "the definitive report card on corporate reputations," Fortune's survey identifies companies that are perceived as the most successful and effective worldwide. CACI ranked sixth among Information Technology (IT) Services companies worldwide and as one of the top six overall in Virginia.

In partnership with the Hay Group, a global management consulting firm, Fortune surveys thousands of top executives and directors from eligible companies, along with financial analysts, to identify the companies that enjoy the strongest reputations within their industries. To make the Most Admired list, a company must have scored in the top half of its industry group.

CACI received top rankings in Fortune's survey criteria, which include the ability to attract and retain people; quality of management; social responsibility to the community and environment; innovativeness; quality of products or services; wise use of corporate assets; financial soundness; long-term investment value; and effectiveness in doing business globally.

According to CACI President and Chief Executive Officer Ken Asbury, "CACI's ranking among the 2014 World's Most Admired Companies in the Information Technology Services category affirms our ability to attract talented professionals and our reputation as an IT innovator supporting our valued customers' most challenging missions.
