

May 19, 2014

CACI Awarded $21 Million Task Order Contract to Support Data Networks for U.S. Army Product Director Initialization

Ongoing Effort Enhances Tactical Communications Among Army Units

ARLINGTON, Va.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- CACI International Inc (NYSE:CACI) announced today that it has been awarded a $21 million task order contract to provide business, logistics, and engineering services for U.S. Army Product Director (PD), Initialization (formerly Product Director Tactical Network Initialization). The contract award, which is for one base year and one option year, was awarded under the Army's Strategic Services Sourcing (S3) contract vehicle during CACI's third quarter of its fiscal year 2014, ending March 31, 2014. This ongoing work expands CACI's growth in its C4ISR (command, control, communications, computers, intelligence, surveillance, and reconnaissance) market area.

PD Initialization provides data products in support of network operations and connectivity for the Army Battle Command System, which is a digital command, control, communications, computers, and intelligence (C4I) system that includes a mix of fixed, semi-fixed, and mobile networks and is designed for interoperability with U.S. and Coalition C4I systems. CACI's services will help advance the integration of systems and tools for PD Initialization and migrate them to a more fully automated environment. This will allow Army units to take full advantage of the capabilities provided by their battlefield communications networks throughout all echelons, from battalion through theater commands. CACI's support services will include research and engineering development, prototyping, demonstrations, integration, fielding, and support for product/software, systems engineering, and logistics.

CACI's broad-based, best-value C4ISR capabilities focus on quality and affordability, with solutions engineered for cost-effective deployment and sustainment across the lifecycle.

John Mengucci, CACI's Chief Operating Officer and President of U.S. Operations, said, "This award supporting data products sustains CACI's established relationship with the U.S. Army's Product Director, Initialization. By supporting the Army's communications capabilities through all echelons, we enable our troops to more effectively fulfill their missions and return safely home."

According to CACI President and Chief Executive Officer Ken Asbury, "Our extensive technical experience and mission understanding are important components in advancing the vital U.S. Army operations. This work directly aligns with a key objective of our customer to develop new and emerging network interoperability technologies and apply them to the battlefield."

CACI provides information solutions and services in support of national security missions and government transformation for Intelligence, Defense, and Federal Civilian customers. A Fortune magazine World's Most Admired Company in the IT Services industry, CACI is a member of the Fortune 1000 Largest Companies, the Russell 2000 Index, and the S&P SmallCap 600 Index. CACI provides dynamic careers for over 15,500 employees in 120 offices worldwide. Visit www.caci.com.

There are statements made herein which do not address historical facts, and therefore could be interpreted to be forward-looking statements as that term is defined in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Such statements are subject to factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from anticipated results. The factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those anticipated include, but are not limited to, the risk factors set forth in CACI's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2013, and other such filings that CACI makes with the Securities and Exchange Commission from time to time. Any forward-looking statements should not be unduly relied upon and only speak as of the date hereof.

CACI-Contract

CACI International Inc
Corporate Communications and Media:
Jody Brown, Executive Vice President, Public Relations
703-841-7801
jbrown@caci.com
or Investor Relations:
David Dragics, Senior Vice President, Investor Relations

866-606-3471

ddragics@caci.com

Source: CACI International Inc

News Provided by Acquire Media