CACI to Showcase Geospatial Solutions at GEOINT 2015 Symposium

Delivering New GEOINT Tool Suite to Better Forecast Global Societal Events and Empower Actionable Decisions

ARLINGTON, Va.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- CACI International Inc (NYSE MKT:CACI) will showcase geospatial solutions for advancing open source geospatial analysis and decision-making at the United States Geospatial Intelligence Foundation's (USGIF) GEOINT 2015 Symposium on June 22-25 at the Walter E. Washington Convention Center in Washington, D.C. The annual GEOINT Symposium is the nation's largest gathering of intelligence professionals and brings together key defense, intelligence, and homeland security decision-makers.

In keeping with this year's conference theme, "Opening the Aperture: Charting New Paths," CACI will showcase its new GEOINT analysis tool suite, Open Source Exploitation Environment, offering powerful intelligence capabilities and improved event forecasting. CACI's solution leverages academic and industry partnerships, including those with AllSource Analysis and iMapData; open source data harvesting; multiple-intelligence fusion analysis; event prediction using social media; foundation data enriched by volunteered geographic information; multiple spatial and temporal visualization techniques; and robust mobile applications to enhance field operations. Visit CACI at Booth 4149 to view demonstrations and meet with the company's geospatial experts.

Additionally, CACI will be presenting a training session, "OpenStreetMap: Source for Worldwide, Seamless, Crowdsourced Geospatial Feature Data," on June 24 from 7-9 a.m. From this seminar, participants will receive information, tools, and ideas to enhance their ability to use OpenStreetMap, a global project to create and share foundation geospatial data, to support mission objectives. CACI will also deliver a presentation entitled "The EMBERS Predictive Analytics System" at the Emerging Technologies Subcommittee's Lightning Talks, which will take place Monday, June 22 from 6:15-7:30 p.m. during GEOINT Foreword, the science and technology forum prefacing the GEOINT 2015 Symposium. CACI will further contribute to the GEOINT Forward session by participating in the "Data Interoperability and Improving Integration with Standards, Models, and Data" panel on June 22 from 5-6:15 p.m.
