CACI to Showcase Innovative Solutions to Stop UAS Threats and Secure Mobile Communications at AFCEA WEST Conference

Capabilities Include SkyTracker™ UAS and Operator Identification/Tracking/Mitigation System and Secure Smartphone and Wireless Communications Solutions

ARLINGTON, Va.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- CACI International Inc (NYSE MKT: CACI) will showcase solutions for addressing unmanned aircraft systems (UAS) threats and securing smartphones and wireless communications at the Armed Forces Communications and Electronics Association (AFCEA) WEST 2016 Conference and Exposition on February 17-19 at the San Diego Convention Center in San Diego, Ca. The annual conference is the premier event on the West Coast for the Sea Services and their supporters. The conference brings together active duty U.S. and allied military, government, industry, and academia decision-makers.

In keeping with this year's conference theme, "How Do We Make the Strategy Work?" CACI will showcase innovative solutions that support its customers' strategies to respond to emerging global threats and ensure secure mobile communications with innovative technologies and techniques. These solutions include CACI's proprietary SkyTracker system, which detects, identifies, and tracks both UAS and their operators, and mitigates UAS threats to valuable assets and national airspace; a secure, Secret-level Android smartphone solution; and a portable communications and computing tool for advancing wireless and mobile communications. Visit CACI at Booth 724 to view these demonstrations and more.
