CACI Executive Chairman Dr. J.P. (Jack) London Awarded Navy League Leadership in Technology Award

Recognizes CACI Achievements in Technology Innovation and Navy Support

ARLINGTON, Va.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- CACI International Inc (NYSE MKT: CACI) has announced that the New York Council, Navy League of the United States has awarded CACI Executive Chairman and Chairman of the Board Dr. J.P. \(Jack\) London its Leadership in Technology Award at the organization's 114th Anniversary Dinner held on April 19th at the New York Yacht Club. The award recognizes Dr. London for his extensive achievements supporting innovation and new advanced technologies for America's sea services.

"I would like to thank the New York Council of the Navy League for this great honor," said Dr. London. "I am very proud of my service to the sea services, as both a U.S. Navy officer and CACI executive. Technological innovation and leading that innovation have been foundational to my own career, and to the success of CACI. We share with the Navy League the belief that sustaining American technological leadership is an imperative for our national security, and I am proud to be part of the League's advancement of this goal."

CACI has been a partner to the Navy for more than 50 years, providing innovative technologies and services the Navy has leveraged to become the world's most powerful naval force. The company's first contract in June 1963 was with the Navy, researching and simulating inventory control operations at the Navy Ships Parts Control Center. Today, the Navy is one of CACI's most valued and longest-standing customers and the company supports Navy customers with solutions that range from combat systems and cyberspace, to intelligence, networks, signals communications, and logistics.

Ken Asbury, CACI's President and Chief Executive Officer, said, "On behalf of the people of CACI, I would like to congratulate Dr. London on receiving this prestigious award from the Navy League. Dr. London's vision and dedication to CACI and to our customers shaped the company and made us the innovative industry leader we are today."

CACI provides information solutions and services in support of national security missions and government transformation for Intelligence, Defense, and Federal Civilian customers.
