BitGo Expands Services to Enable Seamless and Secure Bitcoin Treasury Adoption

2025-07-09

BitGo's 12-Year Track Record and Global OTC Desk will Help Companies Seamlessly Add Bitcoin to Balance Sheets

NEW YORK--(BUSINESS WIRE)--BitGo, the leading infrastructure provider of digital asset solutions, today announced that it has expanded and tailored its integrated, full-service, and security-driven OTC desk, insured cold storage, treasury workflows, and audit-ready APIs to enable corporate entities to add Bitcoin to their balance sheet in a seamless, secure, and regulatory compliant manner.

Over the last 12 years, BitGo has established itself as the only qualified custodian in the world providing a complete suite of secure custody and self-custody products, and as a trusted partner to institutions across the globe. This is evidenced by the fact that it saw its assets under custody grow to over $100 billion in the first half of 2025 alone.

As more companies begin to add Bitcoin and other digital assets onto their balance sheets, BitGo is excited to leverage its complete solution stack, 24/7/365 white glove support, and scale to meet the idiosyncratic operational, compliance, and security needs of any corporation that is seeking to add and manage Bitcoin on their balance sheets. Key features include:

- Insured Cold Storage
- Institutional OTC Trading
- Automated Treasury Workflows
- Audit-Ready APIs
- White-Glove Enterprise Support

"As more companies look to bring Bitcoin and other digital assets onto their balance sheets, they need more than conviction – they need infrastructure that meets the highest standards of security, compliance, and operational control," said Mike Belshe, CEO of BitGo. "We've spent over a decade building the trusted rails for institutional digital asset adoption, and our expanded treasury services make it easier than ever for forward-thinking companies to integrate Bitcoin into their corporate strategies."

BitGo currently serves as the custodian for multiple spot Bitcoin ETFs and supports a growing number of corporate treasury clients integrating digital assets into their balance sheets. With over $100 billion in digital assets under custody and a presence in more than 90 countries, BitGo provides the most secure and scalable infrastructure for companies exploring Bitcoin treasury strategies.

BitGo's expanded bitcoin treasury offering is now available globally to support the next institutional wave. To learn more or begin onboarding, contact sales@bitgo.com.
