

MEET THE AUTHOR DISCUSSION AND NETWORKING RECEPTION

NIRI NY and Baruch College's Robert Zicklin Center for Corporate Integrity Present:

"In Bed with Wall Street – The Conspiracy Crippling Our Global Economy"

Come hear Wall Street veteran, current investment adviser, and hard-hitting blogger Larry Doyle talk about his new book, In Bed with Wall Street. Doyle exposes scandalous activities between Wall Street and Washington both pre- and post-crisis. He specifically focuses on the 'too big to fail' banks and their cozy relationships with political powers on both sides of the aisle and ineffectual regulators.

Date: Wednesday, February 26, 2014
Time: 6:00 pm doors open, program begins at 6:15 pm, networking reception after

The program will be held in room 14-220 of Baruch College's Newman Vertical Campus at 55 Lexington Avenue (enter on 24th or 25th Street). A map and directions are available here. When you arrive on campus, please check in with public safety. Take the elevator to the 14th floor. You will see the registration desk immediately upon exiting the elevator.

This is a complimentary event for NIRI-NY Members, Baruch students and alumni.

Books will be available for purchase at a special price!*

About the Program
The Wall Street meltdown in 2008 brought the country to its knees, and spawned nationwide protests against the lack of regulation and oversight facing Wall Street. But the average American still fails to fully grasp what was—and still is—happening: that the inmates continue to run the asylum. Doyle has been tracking this story for years through his blog "Sense on Cents," and exposes here how Wall Street, our politicians, and the regulators themselves have conspired for personal and industry-wide gains while failing to protect investors, consumers, and the American taxpayer. He details the corrupt nature of Wall Street's financial police, who are little more than meter maids imposing fines that amount to nothing more than a slap on the wrist. He exposes the revolving door of Wall Street, wherein the regulators are all former or future employees of the very firms they're tasked with overseeing, and how they routinely serve the interests of the industry itself rather than protecting investors and markets. Recent bombshells—such as multi-billion dollar trading losses at JP Morgan Chase, the manipulation of interest rates via the LIBOR scandal, and money laundering with North American drug cartels and rogue nations such as Iran—are symptomatic of this corrosive culture and the lack of trust and confidence in the system. As the big banks fight tooth and nail to avoid real reforms that would protect the economy, this book is a timely, important, and shocking look inside the Washington-Wall Street conspiracy crippling America and the global economy.

Click here for more information about the event.

About the Author
Larry Doyle is a Wall Street veteran who has held senior trading positions at First Boston, Bear Stearns and UBS, primarily in the mortgage-backed securities business. He was also a senior sales person at Bank of America, and subsequently National Sales Manager for Securitized Products at JP Morgan Chase, which he left in 2006. In January of 2009, Larry launched his blog "Sense on Cents" (www.senseoncents.com) to deliver insights and perspectives on the economy, markets and global finance. The blog has a particular emphasis on investor education and investor protection, and he is regularly quoted in publications and appears on financial news stations to discuss these topics.

Register Now!