

Voya Financial Selected as New Service Provider for Art Institute of Chicago Retirement Plans

WINDSOR, Conn.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Voya Financial, Inc. (NYSE: VOYA), announced that its Retirement business has been selected as the recordkeeper for the Art Institute of Chicago's Defined Contribution, Retirement, Tax Deferred Savings and 457(b) Deferred Compensation Plans.

The Art Institute of Chicago is the nonprofit corporation that oversees operations of the museum and school of the Art Institute of Chicago. It has retirement plans representing more than $110 million in assets and approximately 2,500 participants as of the third quarter of 2018. The transition to Voya's platform is scheduled to take place in the first quarter of 2019.

As part of its commitment to advancing the retirement readiness of all Americans, Voya will provide plan members with localized support and access to industry-leading educational tools and resources. These include Voya's myOrangeMoney® retirement-income-estimating capabilities and participant website experience, as well as communication and education programs designed to engage and motivate employees to save.

"At Voya, we are committed to delivering our clients exceptional plan administration solutions and services that help their participants get to and through retirement, and we are pleased the Art Institute of Chicago has recognized this commitment by selecting us as their new provider," said Heather Lavalley, president of Tax-Exempt Markets for Voya Financial. "We look forward to supporting the broader retirement and financial wellness needs of the Institute's employees and successfully growing our new relationship."

SageView Consulting assisted the Art Institute of Chicago with the search process and ultimate selection of Voya as the new recordkeeper.
