Logitech Announces Sue Gove, Lung Yeh and Edouard Bugnion as New Board Nominees

NEWARK, Calif. & LAUSANNE, Switzerland--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Logitech International (SIX: LOGN) (Nasdaq: LOGI) today announced that its board of directors will ask shareholders at its next annual general meeting (AGM) to approve the election to the board of directors of three new nominees. They are:

- Sue Gove, president of Excelsior Advisors and former president and CEO of Golfsmith International
- Lung Yeh, managing director of Enspire Capital
- Edouard Bugnion, professor at the École Polytechnique Fédérale de Lausanne (EPFL) and a founder of both VMware and Nuova Systems

Monika Ribar and Matthew Bousquette, non-executive members of Logitech's board of directors since 2004 and 2005 respectively, have decided not to stand for re-election to the board of directors at the 2015 annual general meeting when their current term ends. Monika Ribar serves on Logitech's Audit and Compensation Committees. Matthew Bousquette is Lead Independent Director and serves on Logitech's Compensation, Audit and Nominating Committees.

As Logitech communicated in December 2014, Daniel Borel, Logitech co-founder, also will not stand for re-election at the 2015 AGM.

Guerrino De Luca, chairman of Logitech, commented: "We are proud to present Sue, Lung and Edouard to our shareholders in September. Sue brings extensive experience as an international retail senior executive. Lung brings a valuable, senior background as both an entrepreneur and venture capitalist, as well as experience in Asian markets. And Edouard offers a unique blend of great technology experience and strong academic credentials in an environment of innovation. All will be strong additions to the board.

"On behalf of Logitech, I'd like to thank Monika and Matt for their many years of invaluable service to the board and company. They will remain friends of Logitech, and mentors. Daniel's retirement from the board will mark an historic milestone for our company. As a Logitech founder, there will always be a special place for him at the company. We are here today thanks to his unmatched passion, commitment and contribution to our business and its people. As a personal friend, I will continue to seek his counsel and advice for the years to come."

Logitech intends to file its preliminary proxy statement, which includes additional information regarding these nominees, with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission and post it on the Company's website at <http://ir.logitech.com> on or shortly prior to July 14, 2015. The Company will hold its AGM on September 9, 2015.
