

FMC Corporation board elects Patrick Day as vice president

12/18/2023

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 18, 2023 /PRNewswire/ --

FMC Corporation (NYSE: FMC), a leading global agricultural sciences company, today announced that its board of directors has elected Patrick (Pat) Day as vice president, Financial Planning & Analysis (FP&A), effective January 1, 2024. He will join the company's senior management Operating Committee and will continue to report to Andrew Sandifer, executive vice president and CFO.

"Pat is a highly valued finance business partner with extensive knowledge of FMC's commercial and functional operations," said Mark Douglas, president and CEO. "He brings to the role a deep knowledge of our finance processes, strong business acumen and exceptional analytical capabilities. He will serve as a key finance leader for the company's restructuring initiatives."

Day joined FMC in 2013 as director, Finance Transformation, a role in which he served as a leader of the company's One Finance program. He moved to the FMC European Innovation Center in Copenhagen, Denmark, in 2016 after being named regional finance director for FMC's Europe, Middle East, and Africa region. In 2020, Day returned to FMC's headquarters in Philadelphia to assume the role of global FP&A director. Prior to FMC, he spent six years each with Deloitte Consulting and United Technologies Corporation in a variety of Finance and Finance Transformation roles.

Day earned his bachelor's degree in Finance from Elizabethtown College in Pennsylvania and his master's degree in Accounting and Tax from the University of Connecticut.
