CleanSpark Included in LD Micro Index Rebalance

2019-02-11

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 11, 2019 /PRNewswire/ -- CleanSpark, Inc. (OTC: CLSK), "The Company", a microgrid company with advanced engineering, software and controls for innovative distributed energy resource management systems, today announced that the company was added to the LD Micro 1000 Index rebalance as of February, 2019.

The LD Micro Index is designed to give the most accurate representation of the intraday activity of micro-cap stocks in North America. The index is market cap weighted and is currently comprised of 996 stocks in the U.S. and Canada with market capitalizations between $50 million and $300 million. Of the 996 companies included on the index, fewer that 4% trade on the Over-The-Counter exchange. https://www.ldmicro.com/the-index

"With this reconstitution we will have 996 companies in the index. Due to the volatility in the final weeks of 2018, particularly among micro-cap companies, there was quite a bit of movement; there were 312 companies that no longer qualified, 346 new names were added, and 652 companies that remain in place," said David Scher, LD Micro's Director of Data and Development. "We're happy to add CleanSpark to the index, and congratulate them on their recent acquisition of Pioneer Critical Power, Inc.," he added.

"The addition of CleanSpark to the LD Micro index further demonstrates our commitment to providing shareholder value and transparency. To be included on the list, and to be one of only 4% of the companies to trade OTC (Over-the-Counter), we believe further validates our business model and execution," stated Matthew Schultz, Chief Executive Officer of CleanSpark.
