Stratean Inc. Announces Hydrogen Fuel Cell Technology Patent Acquisition

2016-05-02

Provides Synergies to Current Unit and Will Increase Total Energy Output

SALT LAKE CITY, UT / ACCESSWIRE / May 2, 2016 / Stratean, Inc. (OTC: SRTN), the developer of a patented and revolutionary "stratified" downdraft gasifier, today announced the it has expanded its capabilities by acquiring a patent for an ancillary technology that will enable Stratean to significantly improve the energy output of its revolutionary system.

Stratean acquired a patent for hydrogen fuel cell technology entitled "Electrolytic Reactor and Related Methods for Supplementing the Air Intake of an Internal Combustion Engine." The acquisition was funded through an issuance of Stratean shares. Stratean anticipates integrating this technology, in whole or in part into its downdraft gasification system, enabling the capture and conversion of process byproducts into incremental energy.

Matthew Schultz, Chief Executive Officer of Stratean, Inc., commented, "Our innovative gasification technology has been proven in independent, third-party tests to produce large volumes of clean, renewable energy. The acquisition of this patent today is a great addition to our portfolio and will add significant synergies to our current unit. We expect to increase our total energy output through harnessing some of the byproducts of our existing process. We look forward to sharing more information in the near term on this process, as well as additional synergies that may be realized."

About Stratean, Inc.

From the trash can to the gas can, Stratean, Inc. has successfully designed, engineered, manufactured and patented a revolutionary 'stratified' downdraft gasifier. Our partners, such as Petersen, Inc., ICON Renewables,

Combustion Resources and others have worked with us to create a logical solution for profitably handling MSW, Coal, Plastics, Municipal Sewage and many other feedstocks. All with ZERO airborne emissions. We've aligned ourselves with research universities such as Utah State University, The University of Utah, and BYU to certify and maximize the efficiencies and production of our technology.
