

Investor Presentation

Third Quarter 2023

Cautionary Statement

Some of the statements in this presentation, including our business and financial plans and any statements regarding our anticipated future financial performance, business prospects, growth and operating strategies and similar matters, including performance outlook, financial objectives, business drivers, our ability to gain market share, and the strength, diversity, predictability and resiliency of enterprise and segment earnings, cash flows and other results, may constitute forward-looking statements within the meaning of the U.S. Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Refer to Exhibit 1 in the Appendix for factors that could cause our actual results to differ materially from those currently estimated by management, including those projected in the company outlook and financial objectives, and information on where you can find a more detailed discussion of these factors in our SEC filings.

Assurant uses non-GAAP financial measures to analyze the company's operating performance. Assurant's non-GAAP financial measures should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for GAAP financial measures. Because Assurant's calculation of these measures may differ from similar measures used by other companies, investors should be careful when comparing Assurant's non-GAAP financial measures to those of other companies. Refer to Exhibit 2 in the Appendix for a reconciliation of non-GAAP financial measures to the most comparable GAAP financial measures.

Assurant, Inc. is an insurance holding company and the ownership of its stock is subject to certain state and foreign insurance law requirements. Refer to Exhibit 3 for additional detail.

Third Quarter 2023 Results

"Results for the third quarter were exceptionally strong and outperformed our expectations," said Assurant President and CEO Keith Demmings. "Global Housing's top-line momentum and improving loss experience combined with Global Lifestyle's growing U.S. mobile business produced significant year-over-year earnings growth."

"Our year-to-date performance underscores the strength of our business model and is the result of the many strategic actions taken throughout Assurant over the last 18 months to drive financial and operational excellence. Looking ahead, we are focused on executing our 2023 financial objectives as we continue to make critical investments in talent and technology to drive sustainable growth while effectively deploying our capital to support long-term shareholder value creation," Demmings added.

Third Quarter 2023 Segment Results

Global Lifestyle
Adjusted EBITDA
$192 million
7% YoY

- Excluding a one-time $11.2 million client contract benefit from third quarter 2022, underlying Global Lifestyle results increased $23.6 million, or 14 percent, primarily driven by higher net investment income, stronger mobile device protection results and improved mobile trade-in margins in North America.
- This increase was partially offset by ongoing elevated claims costs in Global Automotive and lower results in Asia Pacific within Connected Living.

Global Housing
Adjusted EBITDA⁽¹⁾
$191 million
+124% YoY

- Adjusted EBITDA increased significantly compared to the third quarter 2022, primarily due to $97.6 million of lower pre-tax reportable catastrophes.
- Excluding reportable catastrophes, Adjusted EBITDA⁽¹⁾ increased 124 percent primarily due to lower non-catastrophe loss experience, including a $14.6 million reserve reduction in the current quarter compared to $24.3 million of reserve strengthening in the prior year period, as well as higher net earned premiums and expense leverage within Homeowners. Higher net investment income also contributed to the increase.

Information listed as of September 30, 2023.

(1) Excludes reportable catastrophes. Refer to Exhibit 2 in the Appendix for information regarding non-GAAP financial measures, including reconciliations to the most directly comparable GAAP measures.

Strong Cash Generation Provides Significant Flexibility

- Robust cash flow with over $5.8B in segment dividends over the past 10 years⁽¹⁾
- $491M holding company liquidity available as of September 30, 2023
- Balanced portfolio creates diversified source of cash flows
 - Homeowners generates strong cash flows and provides capital to support growth
 - Growth in less capital-intensive businesses expected to generate more predictable cash flows over time

Segment Dividend History ($ in millions)

(1) Consists of dividends or returns of capital from operating subsidiaries to the holding company, net of infusions of liquid assets, and excluding acquisitions and divestitures.

(2) 2015-2018 exclude dividends and infusions relating to Assurant Health and Assurant Employee Benefits.

Some of the statements in this presentation, including our business and financial plans and any statements regarding the company's anticipated future financial performance, business prospects, growth and operating strategies and similar matters, including financial objectives and the strength, diversity, predictability and resiliency of enterprise and segment earnings, cash flows and other results, may constitute forward-looking statements within the meaning of the U.S. Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995.

You can identify forward-looking statements by the use of words such as "outlook," "objective," "will," "may," "can," "anticipates," "expects," "estimates," "projects," "intends," "plans," "believes," "targets," "forecasts," "potential," "approximately," and the negative version of those words and other words and terms with a similar meaning. Any forward-looking statements contained in this presentation are based upon our historical performance and on current plans, estimates and expectations. The inclusion of this forward-looking information should not be regarded as a representation by us or any other person that our future plans, estimates or expectations will be achieved. Our actual results might differ materially from those projected in the forward-looking statements. We undertake no obligation to update or review any forward-looking statement, whether as a result of new information, future events or other developments. The following factors could cause our actual results to differ materially from those currently estimated by management, including those projected in the company outlook: i. the loss of significant clients, distributors or other parties with whom we do business, or if we are unable to renew contracts with them on favorable terms, or if they disintermediate us, or if those parties face financial, reputational or regulatory issues; ii. significant competitive pressures, changes in customer preferences and disruption; iii. the failure to execute our strategy, including through the continuing service of key executives, senior leaders, highly-skilled personnel and a high-performing workforce; iv. the failure to find suitable acquisitions at attractive prices, integrate acquired businesses or divest of non-strategic businesses effectively or identify new areas for organic growth; v. our inability to recover should we experience a business continuity event; vi. the failure to manage vendors and other third parties on whom we rely to conduct business and provide services to our clients; vii. risks related to our international operations; viii. declines in the value and availability of mobile devices, and export compliance or other risks in our mobile business; ix. our inability to develop and maintain distribution sources or attract and retain sales representatives and executives with key client relationships; x. risks associated with joint ventures, franchises and investments in which we share ownership and management with third parties; xi. the impact of catastrophe and non-catastrophe losses, including as a result of the current inflationary environment and climate change; xii. negative publicity relating to our business, industry or clients; xiii. the impact of general economic, financial market and political conditions (including the Israel-Hamas war) and conditions in the markets in which we operate, including the current inflationary environment; xiv. the adequacy of reserves established for claims and our inability to accurately predict and price for claims and other costs; xv. a decline in financial strength ratings of our insurance subsidiaries or in our corporate senior debt ratings; xvi. fluctuations in exchange rates, including in the current environment; xvii. an impairment of goodwill or other intangible assets; xviii. the failure to maintain effective internal control over financial reporting; xix. unfavorable conditions in the capital and credit markets; xx. a decrease in the value of our investment portfolio, including due to market, credit and liquidity risks, and changes in interest rates; xxi. an impairment in the value of our deferred tax assets; xxii. the unavailability or inadequacy of reinsurance coverage and the credit risk of reinsurers, including those to whom we have sold business through reinsurance; xxiii. the credit risk of some of our agents, third-party administrators and clients; xxiv. the inability of our subsidiaries to pay sufficient dividends to the holding company and limitations on our ability to declare and pay dividends or repurchase shares; xxv. limitations in the analytical models we use to assist in our decision-making; xxvi. the failure to effectively maintain and modernize our information technology systems and infrastructure, or the failure to integrate those of acquired businesses; xxvii. breaches of our information technology systems or those of third parties with whom we do business, or the failure to protect the security of data in such systems, including due to cyberattacks and as a result of working remotely; xxviii. the costs of complying with, or the failure to comply with, extensive laws and regulations to which we are subject, including those related to privacy, data security, data protection and tax; xxix. the impact of litigation and regulatory actions; xxx. reductions or deferrals in the insurance premiums we charge; xxxi. changes in insurance, tax and other regulations, including the Inflation Reduction Act of 2022; xxxii. volatility in our common stock price and trading volume; and xxxiii. employee misconduct.

For additional information on factors that could affect our actual results, please refer to the factors identified in the reports we file with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, including the risk factors identified in our most recent Annual Report on Form 10-K and Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q.

Exhibit 2: Non-GAAP Financial Measures

Assurant uses the following non-GAAP financial measures to analyze the company's operating performance. Assurant's non-GAAP financial measures should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for GAAP financial measures. Because Assurant's calculation of these measures may differ from similar measures used by other companies, investors should be careful when comparing Assurant's non-GAAP financial measures to those of other companies.

- (1) Assurant uses Segment Adjusted EBITDA, excluding reportable catastrophes, as an important measure of Global Lifestyle and Global Housing's combined operating performance. Assurant defines Segment Adjusted EBITDA, excluding reportable catastrophes, as Adjusted EBITDA for Global Lifestyle plus Adjusted EBITDA for Global Housing, which in each case is the company's GAAP segment measure of profitability, excluding in each case reportable catastrophes (which represent individual catastrophic events that generate losses in excess of $5.0 million, pre-tax, net of reinsurance and client profit sharing adjustments and including reinstatement and other premiums). The as reported results have been revised for the following adjustments:
1. As reported Twelve Months 2022 and As reported Twelve Months 2019 have been revised to reflect the realignment of certain specialty products previously included in the Global Housing segment to the Global Lifestyle segment, which is effective January 1, 2023.
 2. As reported Twelve Months 2019 has been revised to reflect the 2Q 2022 change to the Adjusted EBITDA calculation to exclude certain businesses which the company expects to fully exit, including the sharing economy and small commercial businesses (collectively referred to as "non-core operations").
 3. As reported Twelve Months 2019 has been revised to reflect the correction of an error identified in 2Q 2022 within the Global Lifestyle segment.

The company believes this metric provides investors with an important measure of Global Lifestyle and Global Housing's combined operating performance because it excludes reportable catastrophes, which can be volatile. The comparable GAAP measure is Global Lifestyle Adjusted EBITDA and Global Housing Adjusted EBITDA.

Exhibit 2: Non-GAAP Financial Measures (Continued)

(2) Assurant uses Adjusted EBITDA, excluding reportable catastrophes, as an important measure of the company's operating performance. Assurant defines Adjusted EBITDA, excluding reportable catastrophes, as net income, excluding net realized losses (gains) on investments and fair value changes to equity securities, non-core operations, restructuring costs related to strategic exit activities, Assurant Health runoff operations, interest expense, provision (benefit) for income taxes, depreciation expense, amortization of purchased intangible assets, and reportable catastrophes (defined above), as well as other highly variable or unusual items. The company believes this metric provides investors with an important measure of the company's operating performance because it excludes items and reportable catastrophes that do not represent the ongoing operations of the company or can be volatile, and therefore (i) enhances management's and investors' ability to analyze the ongoing operations of its businesses and (ii) facilitates comparisons of its operating performance over multiple periods, including because the amortization expense associated with purchased intangible assets may fluctuate from period to period based on the timing, size, nature and number of acquisitions. Although the company excludes amortization of purchased intangible assets from Adjusted EBITDA, revenue generated from such intangible assets is included within the revenue in determining Adjusted EBITDA. The comparable GAAP measure is net income.

(3) Assurant uses Adjusted earnings per diluted share as an important measure of the company's stockholder value. Assurant defines Adjusted earnings per diluted share as net income, excluding net realized losses (gains) on investments and fair value changes to equity securities, amortization of purchased intangible assets, non-core operations, restructuring costs related to strategic exit activities, Assurant Health runoff operations, as well as other highly variable or unusual items, divided by the weighted average diluted shares outstanding. The company believes this metric provides investors with an important measure of stockholder value because it excludes items that do not represent the ongoing operations of the company, and therefore (i) enhances management's and investors' ability to analyze the ongoing operations of its businesses and (ii) facilitates comparisons of its operating performance over multiple periods, including because the amortization expense associated with purchased intangible assets may fluctuate from period to period based on the timing, size, nature and number of acquisitions. Although the company excludes amortization of purchased intangible assets from Adjusted earnings, revenue generated from such intangible assets is included within the revenue in determining Adjusted earnings. The comparable GAAP measure is net income per diluted share, defined as net income, divided by the weighted average diluted shares outstanding.

Assurant uses Adjusted earnings, excluding reportable catastrophes, per diluted share (each as defined above) as another important measure of the company's stockholder value. The company believes this metric provides investors with an important measure of stockholder value for the reasons noted above and because it excludes reportable catastrophes, which can be volatile. The comparable GAAP measure is net income per diluted share (defined above).

(4) The metrics included within the company's outlook each constitute forward-looking non-GAAP financial measures and the company believes that it cannot, without unreasonable efforts, forecast certain information needed to reconcile such forward-looking non-GAAP financial measures to the most comparable GAAP measure, the probable significance of which cannot be determined. The company is able to quantify a full-year estimate of interest expense, depreciation expense and amortization of purchased intangible assets, each on a pre-tax basis, and the estimated effective tax rate, which are expected to be approximately $108 million, $105 million, $74 million and 20 to 22 percent, respectively. Other GAAP components cannot be reliably quantified due to the combination of variability and volatility of such components and may, depending on the size of the components, have a significant impact on the reconciliation.

Exhibit 3: Regulatory Requirements

As a reminder, Assurant, Inc. is an insurance holding company, with insurance subsidiaries domiciled in a number of states in the U.S. and international jurisdictions. The ownership of our stock is subject to certain state and foreign insurance law requirements. Those are typically triggered when ownership reaches 10% of voting securities but some jurisdictions may have different requirements. We encourage engagement with us prior to approaching ownership levels that may trigger these requirements.
